FIVE CHARGED WITH HOAX IN MRS. SIELAFF'S STORY Woman Battles Defense in Effort to Discredit Account She Gives of Carmel Episode Sequel

(Continued from First Page) her, she said, to go to San Francisco and do some work for a Los Angeles woman who was in serious trouble. She went there and was met by a Mr. Martin, whom she said she afterward learned was Jack Woolley, the attorney's cousin.

Mr. Carr, during his examining, pointed out a slight discrepancy between her testimony here and that before the Municipal Court in Los Angeles, when Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy were given their preliminary hearing. Very coolly she answered that the day she assumed the stand in Los Angeles she had received letters threatening her life and the lives of her children and suggested to Mr. Carr to examine the transcript of the following day when she corrected one of the mistakes. She retained her poise throughout the examination except when she heard the commitment was furnished in her face. Her features then indicated plainly an inward struggle for control.

When she left the stand the defense refused to excuse her, demanding that she remain in attendance, but Assemblyman Lane of the managers forcing the defense to agree that if she is recalled it will be as a defense witness.

It was the Mr. Martin who gave her the expense for her trip to Los Angeles, she said, and who told her first to go to Keyes, adding that she knew Woolley in Utah at an early age and that they were extremely friendly. She said they went to school together and that she had known him about the time she was 13. She was doubtful as to whether their relations could be described as "friendly," but eventually said they were.

Mr. Little stopped this procedure by objecting that it was not relevant to the case for counsel to go back to the time the witness was a 13-year-old girl.

MANY SENSATIONS Today's session was by far the most sensational of the trial. Mr. Carr cross-examined Mrs. Siefaff for more than two hours and tried many times to break down her testimony, regarded as damaging to Judge Hardy by attempting to impeach her by former statements, affidavits and testimony.

Just at the close of his questioning he asked her if she ever had been committed to the Utah State Hospital for the Insane. Objecting to this procedure, the defense overruled and she said she had.

She explained that it was four years ago and that she was in the place but three months, during which time she was the private secretary of one of the physicians, made a complete history of each patient and slept and ate with the nurses, not being regarded as a subject. She added that the person behind her confinement committed suicide in San Diego and she immediately was released.

Next, Mr. Carr allowed the commitment and the release to go in the record over the objections of Mr. Cronin, who contended the circumstances were too remote to affect the credibility of the witness.

On redirect examination Mr. Cronin asked two questions, to drive home to the Senate that she was confined but three months and since that time never has been in an institution. She was committed at the request of her sister, Mrs. Virginia Kimball, and released to her mother, Mrs. Clara McDonald. She was 26 years of age at the time, according to the commitment.

POISE RETAINED Mrs. Siefaff, who was called to the stand by the Municipal Court in Los Angeles, when Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy were given their preliminary hearing. # BRITISH BUDGET MEANS WHAT IT REALLY ISN'T LONDON, April 15. (AP)—Quaint notions around the budget upon which the minds of British taxpayers dwell today.

The term itself really means a small bag, sack, or box. The British budget derives its name from the dispatch box, green in the old days; red now, in which the Chancellor carried his secrets to the table of the House of Commons. To this day he is said, "to open the budget," as if it were a sack of surprises for a roomful of schoolboys.

The main function of the budget is that, officially speaking, there is no such thing as the budget. It is the "financial statement of the House of Commons."

Chancellor of the Exchequer. And it isn't addressed to the House of Commons at all, but to the Committee of Ways and Means.

After the members of Parliament have gone through the ritual of tea and coffee, the speaker rises to open the budget, the mace is removed from the table, a chairman of the committee takes a small seat in front of the empty Speaker's chair, and the House of Commons, packed though it is with every one of the 615 members who can crowd in, officially becomes a committee appointed by the House of Commons.

Of the jury, told them that Judge Hardy had said to him: "You fellows lay off the Albee case," the McPhersons then being under investigation. Their testimony was similar to that of E. J. Nagle, while Mr. Bryden previously testified.

TESTIMONY BARRED The managers produced one witness who couldn't testify. He is W. A. Gabrielson, now a police sergeant at Berkeley, but in 1928 Chief of Police at Monterey. Very coolly he explained that one of the detective reports quoted Gabrielson as saying that in his opinion Ormiston was a "bad fellow," and that he was a "bad fellow" in Carmel cottage and on the theory that the detective was Judge Hardy's agent, he could testify to the contrary. Gabrielson ruled against the managers.

"We accept the ruling," said Cronin without hesitating, and the witness left the chair.

READ TESTIMONY Assemblymen Sewell and Hornblower then began the reading, over defense objections, of Judge Hardy's testimony before the Municipal Court when he was a McPherson defense witness. His testimony included statements that he advised Mrs. McPherson concerning her story of the kidnapping, told Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. McPherson of his dealings with R. A. McKinley, Los Angeles lawyer, who said he was negotiating with the kidnappers, communicated with McKinley and arranged investigations with detectives.

This testimony, which the managers assert shows that Judge Hardy was active in the kidnapping defense to the point of obstructing justice, will be continued in the morning.

The managers have almost completed their case. They have left Mrs. Bernice Morris, McKinley's secretary, to testify before the Municipal Court. McKinley's secretary, O. R. Taverne, Temple press agent, and Morris LaVigne, newspaper man. Their testimony will be taken up tomorrow.

By reason of its power to grant or withhold permission for the incidental rearrangement of main-line track the commission may now prevent the establishment of union stations whether by voluntary action of the Transportation Act of 1920.

DEFINES POSITION "But the effect of the exercise of that indirect and restrictive means of control would merely be to preserve the existing status of the cities affected. A direct and mandatory law would be required to bring about the station itself and the abandonment of existing terminals."

Pointing out that the District Court of Appeals had declared the Commerce Act empowering the commission to require one railroad to permit use of its tracks for the terminals and tracks, the commission contends in its brief that this refers only to existing terminals and not to the building of new union stations and abandonment of existing individual stations.

Summing up the commission insists it has restrictive authority only and no power as to compel abandonment of old stations or construction of new ones.

ENGLAND'S TEA TAX ABOLISHED (Continued from First Page) of pounds of tea into their harbor in 1773. The tea tax and the stamp tax were the two chief economic causes for growth of the revolutionary feeling in the northern colonies.

Since the days of Queen Elizabeth both the tax on tea has always been present in England, although it has seen many changes and many demands for its abolition. Just as the English public learned from the Chinese to like the beverage, so the Stuart kings quickly followed the Chinese example of taxing the dried leaves.

DESPITE TAXATION Heavy taxation never stopped the growing use of the beverage, which by 1806 averaged 6.17 pounds per person a year in England. At the end of the eighteenth century the duty was five shillings a pound and fifty years later was still as high as two shillings and sixpence a pound.

For a century and a half the tax gradually approached the vanishing point but the World War sent it up again to a shilling a pound. Since then the British public has raised around the cry of a "free breakfast table" as the American colonists had used the earlier slogan, "Taxation without representation is tyranny."

Fascists March in Albania Army to Honor Italian

TIRANA (Albania) April 15. (AP)—Italian and Albanian Fascists marched with troops of the regular Albanian army today in a military review in honor of Dino Grandi, Italian Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, who is on a visit here.

King Zogu and Signor Grandi received a continuous ovation. Passing youth shouted Italian flags to everyone. Thousands of sturdy mountain dwellers of Albania, dressed in medieval costumes, gave a picturesque touch to the scene.

GIVES NAMES When she was asked who else told her to keep the judge's name out, she named Dep. Dist. Atty. Demulson, Charles Riemer, formerly an investigator for the District Attorney, former Chief Deputy District Attorney Davis and possibly former Chief Deputy District Attorney Murray.

R. P. Davidson of Culver City and O. M. Harris of Los Angeles, both members of the 1926 grand jury, followed Mrs. Siefaff on the stand and were questioned by Assemblyman Woolwine. They both testified that Robert W. Bryden, a member of the jury, told them that Judge Hardy had said to him: "You fellows lay off the Albee case," the McPhersons then being under investigation. Their testimony was similar to that of E. J. Nagle, while Mr. Bryden previously testified.

United States Citizen Shot on British Boat

LONDON, April 15. (Tuesday) (AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hongkong today says that the American steamer Cahu was heavily fired upon above Ichang on the Yangtze River. A Chinese passenger on an accompanying steamer was killed and another wounded.

SHANGHAI, April 15. (AP)—The American consular authorities have been advised of the slaying of an American missionary in the province of Kweichow.

The American officials today were seeking details, and meantime have advised the State Department of the available information.

A telegram from Changchun, in Northwest Hunan, today said that foreigners there had been under fire for six days. The telegraphists' company's agency was wrecked and the printing and publishing plant looted. The latest information here, however, is that the soldiers concerned had departed and that foreigners are in no further danger.

A telegram from Ichang, Hupeh Province, said three British sailors were wounded when a British gunboat was fired on from the banks of the Yangtze-kang, near that city.

An American named Marshall was reported to have been shot in the hand. No further details are available, but it is understood that Marshall, said to have come from Chicago, went up the Yangtze, presumably aboard one of the British steamers which the Tern was conveying in the neighborhood of Ichang.

Federals Bomb Rebel Column

Mexican Insurgent Force Remnant Staggered Wearily Into Agua Prieta

Gen. Yucupicio Scornful of Manzo's Overtures for Indian's Surrender

BY HARRY CARR

"Times" Staff Representative NACO, April 15. (Exclusive)—The last act of the tragedy began this morning when Escobar's retreating army dragged itself into Agua Prieta. For the dreadful weeks since the disaster of Torreon, it has been in flight. As it staggered across the desert hills two Federal planes shot out from Naco like falcons to drop death into its tired ranks.

When he came back one of the Mexican aviators told me it made his heart sick to carry them with him. The horses were so worn and exhausted that they stumbled along with bloodshot eyes and their heads drooping to the ground. They did not even raise their heads when the bombs fell crashing into the column. The men did not look up, either. They were too tired to care about death. They sat huddled in their saddles with the hopeless resignation of stricken animals.

About three-fourths of the army were mounted. Their horses were mostly thin blooded stock raised from the ranches they had passed. Scattered stock would never have had the fighting hearts to have kept on.

WEIRD CAVALCADE

The foot soldiers had been picked up by automobiles at the foot of Pulpito Pass. It was a weird cavalcade. Some were in trucks commandeered from the Sonora ranches, others rode in automobiles and night like the streets of Agua Prieta, decrepit, bouncing old Fords without any tires, touring cars, taxicabs and anything that would roll. They came in six columns of about 300 men each and they kept coming all day.

The aviators dropped thirty bombs; but I think to the secret satisfaction of the army, none of the bombs killed any one.

It suggested Napoleon's retreat from Moscow except for this, that Napoleon had run away and left them to their fate.

These are the conditions they found as they dragged themselves into bivouac at Agua Prieta: Escobar, the general for whom they sacrificed themselves has slid out for Nogales.

Topete, the lion of the north had hustled all his troops from the unfought battlefield of Naco, and is facing Calles on the west coast.

Gen. Manzo is on the American side of the line trying to arrange a meeting with Gen. Yucupicio to persuade him to desert the rebel cause.

MANZO ASKS MUCH

Manzo came secretly to the border last night with Gen. Rodriguez, the Federal commander of all the troops. With him also came U. S. Dist. Atty. Gungl of Arizona, who had Manzo in custody.

Manzo was trying to carry out a bargain. He wants ranch. He wants the United States government to grant him safe asylum. He wants the Mexican Federal government not only to think better of its determination to shoot him, but also to give him back all his Mexican property, especially his herd of fine cattle.

To this end Gen. Manzo is trying to deliver Gen. Yucupicio and his army in the hills behind Naco to the Federals.

Every attempt was made last

FREE AIR MAY BE MEMORY

Service Station-Garage Men's War in Bay City Apt to Tax Motorists

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. (AP)—San Francisco motorists may be forced to pay a "service charge" for inflating tires, filling radiators and other accommodations at service stations if the "gasoline war" between station operators and garage men is not settled soon.

Joseph L. Bury, secretary of the Retail Service Station Dealers' Association, announced today.

Bury contends that the garages sell gasoline for a cent a gallon less than the stations, but that the stations give service free. He pointed out that a charge is made in some cities for air and water at service stations.

*****

night to keep his mission secret, but the best of secrets leak. I know a man who was present at the conference in a back room in Douglas last night. Manzo was nervous almost to the point of tears. As he very fat, his tragedy was all the more pathetic.

YUCUPICIO SCORNFUL

All last night and all day today Manzo tried to get in touch with Yucupicio by telephone, messenger and letter.

But Yucupicio returned only the scorn of an Indian. Manzo's chief has been the one leonine figure of the rebel cause. The Federals brought in another Indian, Gen. Lopez, on purpose to work sweet reasonableness into him.

Yucupicio listened over the phone to Lopez's sharp staccato spitting talk in the Zapotecan Indian tongue and hummed up the phone.

He sits out there in the hills grim, inscrutable and silent, a fighting lion. His men have lost heart and are trying to scatter into the hills. He has mounted a guard over them and keeps them herded day and night like the streets of Agua Prieta.

This morning three infantry officers suddenly broke and ran away. Yucupicio ordered two fast horses from the picket lines and sent two young cavalry lieutenants in pursuit. To kill them or bring them back. The cavalry men rode out of camp, turned their horses' heads as soon as they were out of rifle range and galloped to the Federal lines waving white handkerchiefs. They surrendered and were sent to the Federal trenches.

INDIAN WANTS TO FIGHT

Even in the face of this disheartening condition, Yucupicio up to this writing has returned only scornful silence to Manzo's blandishments.

The commander of the tragic little column that came into Agua Prieta this morning is also an Indian, Gen. Urbalejo.

Gen. Caravez was left in command when Escobar left his army. He has also dropped out of where. As soon as this exhausted army can walk without staggering, Yucupicio wants to attack Naco.

Yucupicio wants to attack Naco from the picket lines and send two young cavalry lieutenants in pursuit. To kill them or bring them back. The cavalry men rode out of camp, turned their horses' heads as soon as they were out of rifle range and galloped to the Federal lines waving white handkerchiefs. They surrendered and were sent to the Federal trenches.

Yucupicio is on the wrong side of this war, but he will be remembered in Mexico's traditions as a man. In his heart is the most sacred tradition of every Indian that a man only has a little while to live, anyhow. It does not matter when that matters is how you die. It only remains to be seen whether human souls can be stiffened to the ordeal ahead of him.

Betrayed, disheartened, discouraged, the rebel troops in this valley have to face the well-equipped veteran troops in the trenches at Naco and Gen. Almanzan is following fast toward Pulpito Pass repairing the torn-up railroad tracks and pressing hard behind the tired army.

REBELS MUST FIGHT OR FLEE TO MOUNTAINS

MEXICO CITY, April 15. (AP)—Government officials believed to-night that Federal advances in the State of Sinaloa had placed the main rebel force on the west coast in a position at San Blas, where it either would have to fight or take to the mountains.

While the main Federal army under Gen. Lazaro Cardenas continues to push steadily northward, official announcement was made today that the only railroad north of San Blas leading into Sonora had been cut by Federal forces landed at Guaymas.

A Federal warship lies in Guaymas Bay with its guns trained on the junction of the main line of the Southern Pacific of Mexico and the branch line that runs to Guaymas.

Secretary of War Calles reported to the President that two rebel airplanes yesterday in an attempt to remove the Federal threat in the rear bombed the cruiser Progreso at Guaymas. No damage was done to the warship. The cruiser Bravo has been ordered to reinforce the Progreso.

FEDERALS MOVING FOR FINAL OFFENSIVE

AGUA PRIETA (Son.) April 15. (AP)—Rebel and Federal troops, deserting old battlefields, maneuvered again today in what apparently were efforts to put a final picture on the fate of the Mexican revolution.

Reports to Nogales, Ariz., told of the movement of twenty-seven Federal troops training northward from Guadalupe, Jalisco, ostensibly en route up the west coast of Mexico to further bottle up the rebels in Sonora.

The Federal army sweeping up from Guadalupe was reported to consist of 10,000 strong, with Gen. Calles in command. A repair train crawled ahead of it to fix railroad track which the rebels were known to have damaged in their retreat from the unsuccessful campaign against Mazatlan, Sinaloa.

Rebel leaders at Nogales, Son., asked United States immigration officers to refuse entrance to American soldiers as a measure to prevent desertions.

GENEVA TO HOLD OPEN SESSIONS

Suggestions on Disarmament Will be Presented

Gibson in Conference With Briton and Japanese

American Ideas Expected to be Put Forward

GENEVA, April 15. (AP)—Indications tonight confirm the idea that suggestions will be presented at public sessions of the preparatory committee for a disarmament conference, which held its opening session here today, rather than that they will be subject of private conventions between the chief delegates.

It increasingly is believed that the American delegation will not refrain because of the approaching English general elections from putting forward any concrete suggestions calculated to advance the cause of limitation or reduction of naval armaments.

GIBSON IN CONFERENCE

Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, talked today with Baron Cuthbert of Great Britain and Minister Sato, who represents Japan at Paris. They talked in the glass room of the League of Nations building immediately after adjournment of the meeting and while other delegates were buzzing around. Although their actual conversation was not repeated, the impression is gained that the Americans are not planning to postpone consideration of any program they may have prepared.

The American ideas on naval and other armaments questions undoubtedly will be introduced as the various subjects are taken up by the commission, and the chances are believed good that the Americans may have something exceptionally interesting to offer.

SOCIALISTS MAKE PLEA

Count Von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, today will propose appointment of a special committee of five great naval powers to study the naval questions. This may be opposed unless a subcommittee also is designated to study land and air armaments. Some of the naval powers are expected to oppose the proposal to the creation of the idea before the world that naval difference also is holding up disarmament.

International Socialism made a strong bid tonight for swift action in the reduction of burdens imposed by armaments. A delegation from the second international, headed by Louis De Broekere of Belgium, called on President J. Landon of the commission, backed by petitions forwarded from many countries.

Up to the present about 75,000 such petitions have reached Geneva and still they are coming at the rate of several hundred daily. The memorials have been signed also by church members and many others at public meetings.

MISUSE OF OIL LEASE LAW CITED

Attention Called to Frauds in Announcement Made by Interior Department

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—The general oil lands leasing law was said today in an Interior Department announcement, to have been used by many unscrupulous persons and associations for their own special benefit and to the detriment of those induced to enter into their schemes.

Some of the schemes, it was said, violated the general laws against fraud rather than the public land laws and in many cases improper use of the mails had been found. The statement added that of the 24,000 oil prospecting permits that have been granted, only fifty-six leases have been issued.

The department's files are filling gradually with letters from persons who have paid into wildcatting organizations funds they cannot recover. Since President Hoover's oil-conservation program went into effect, many more violations have been uncovered.

Birth-Control Aides Arrested

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—Two women physicians and three nurses were arrested today at the Birth Control Clinic Research Bureau in West Fifteenth street, charged with distributing instruments, recipes, drugs or medicines in violation of the Penal Code.

Those arrested were Dr. Hanna K. Stone, Dr. Elizabeth Plowton, Anjelita Fawcett Brestwell and Marcella Siddier.

ACT ON TRUCK C.O.D.'S

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. (AP)—The State Railroad Commission today announced it will conduct an investigation with a view to issuing a general order to the effect that all stage and truck companies making a C.O.D. delivery must settle with the consignee within ten days' receipt of the money.

War Head Declares Nation Headed for Ruin

Lawlessness Not Attributed to Prohibition

Retiring President Presents Annual Report

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Secretary Good tonight called upon the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution to use their influence to wage "a relentless war upon the growing contempt for authority and law observance" in this country.

Speaking before the thirty-eighth annual congress of the society, the War Department head declared that the United States is the most lawless country in the world.

"This disrespect for law did not have its beginning with the adoption of any amendment to the Constitution," he said. "Before the latest of them had been brought forth and ratified, we had become the most lawless people upon the face of the earth."

DOOM FORECAST

"This growing disrespect on the part of the American people, which we all recognize, will, if permitted to grow and develop, in the end work our destruction."

He declared he believes in national defense and preparedness, even though "in spite of the innate stupidity of mankind and its propensity to settle by war disputes which might easily be settled without war, it will be a long time before we shall be called upon again to engage in a major armed conflict."

"Your influence is greater today than ever before. If you are opposed to any statute or constitutional provision, it is your privilege to work for its repeal by lawful methods, but it is not your privilege to disobey it."

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Ambassador Ferrand of Cuba greeted the delegates to the congress at the first day's session, asserting that the society serves as an organization to perpetuate the ideals upon which this country was founded.

Mrs. Alfred J. Broussard, retiring president-general, gave her last annual report as leader of the organization, reviewing the achievements of the society during her eight years' administration.

She said expansion of the society would, in time, necessitate the appointment of assistants to the president-general. She suggested that the society should be given power to relieve the president of a part of the cares outside the Washington office.

Tinkham Writes on Amendments

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Representative Tinkham, Massachusetts, who previously has addressed President Hoover with a demand for attention to enforcement of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the Constitution, today made public a letter following up the same issue, but directed to Atty.-Gen. Mitchell.

The amendments are, respectively, those concerned by him to withdraw representation from States restricting negro voting rights and forbidding any restriction of franchise on race ground. Mr. Tinkham in his letter declared that a President failing to enforce them is subject to impeachment.

Committee to go over the measure. Today was the first time the House elected last November had assembled and 462 of the 485 members were present. As in the Senate, the Democratic strength had shrunk considerably from last session, with a corresponding increase in the Republican line-up.

The Senate previously had assembled and received its new members on the day after inauguration, but another new one, Henry Allen of Kansas, came forward today to take the seat vacated by his old political rival, Charles Curtis, the new Vice-President.

MEMBERS SWORN

Mr. Curtis administered the oath to Mr. Allen and also to Bronson Cutting, Republican, New Mexico, and Robert La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who were sworn last November and who were unable to be present on March 5.

The appearance of Oscar De Priest, a Negro, who had been elected Chicago Republican to fill the seat of the late Martin B. Madden, was the first time in twenty-eight years a member of his race had been in the House. He took a seat near the rear of the chamber with the Republicans and was sworn in along with four other members of the House, who still face contests over their seats.

DAUGHTERS OF RIVALS

All but one of the eight women members of the new House were present today. Mrs. Langley, of Kentucky, a veteran of last session was absent on account of illness. Two daughters of two of the leading actors in the 1928 Presidential campaign walked into the House on opposite sides of the aisle.

In the same parties of their fathers—Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, three times Democratic Presidential nominee, and Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of Mark Hanna, chairman of the Republican National Committee in the days of the Bryan campaign.

The House had the only contest of the day, a perfunctory one over the speakership. Representative Longworth, the Republican nominee, received the 229 Republican votes present today and 143 Democrats balloted for their new leader, and their candidate for speaker, Representative Garner of Texas.

HAPPY REUNIONS

The floors of both chambers were the scenes of happy reunions before and after the sessions but a meeting of the Democratic Steering Committee in the Senate detained the leaders of the minority party until just after the actual opening of the session there.

The Senate committee, although organized, were not active but a call was issued for the Judiciary Committee.

JOHN D.'S PIETY GETS SETBACK

Flocks of Photographers Keep Him From Entering Church,
as He Returns Home

LAKEWOOD (N.J.) April 15. (AP)—A dozen cameramen prevented the attendance of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., at church yesterday. Rev. Marshall Sewell, pastor of First Baptist Church, announced indignantly today that he will ask for a police detail next week to keep photographers off the church property.

The cameramen, whose numbers included two mounted atop automobile trucks containing sound registering apparatus, were grouped about the church steps and lawn when Rockefeller's automobile arrived. The aged millionaire looked from the window of his limousine and ordered the chauffeur to return to the estate after making a vain attempt to get into another church.

Committee to convene Wednesday to consider the McKellar resolution asking a report on the right of Andrew W. Mellon to continue as Secretary of the Treasury without re-nomination, and whether Mr. Mellon's extensive holdings conflicted with an old statute forbidding the Secretary of the Treasury to be interested in trade or commerce.

Chairman Norris called the special meeting after conferences with the other committee members. There is a disposition on the part of some members to call Mr. Mellon before he leaves the office under existing law. The Senate had finished its day's work with twenty-six minutes after Vice-President Curtis rapped for order at noon and Rev. Joseph R. Simon, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, offered prayer in the absence of the regular chaplain, Rev. Z. B. Phillips. The House chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, offered prayer in that chamber after William Tyler Page, clerk of the House, had called the session to order and presided until the adjournment of the speaker.

CALL ON HOOVER

Each body named a committee to wait on the President and inform him that Congress was in session and this joint committee, including the leaders of the two parties in each House, Senators Watson of Indiana, and Robinson, of Arkansas, and Representative Tilton, Republican, Connecticut and Garner, of Texas, late in the day called at the White House.

There were prominent guests in the galleries of each chamber, including the families of many members. In the Vice-President's row in the Senate gallery was his sister, Mrs. Edw. Brewster Garrison, who was the center of Washington's recent social row after Mr. Curtis demanded she be accorded the full recognition of a Vice-President's wife. The son of Mr. Curtis, Harry, of Chicago, also was there and in front of them the President's son, the uncle of Mr. Hoover, Mr. William D. Henry.

NEGROES ATTEND

Over in the House one gallery was crowded with negroes who earlier in the day had called at the office of Representative De Priest.

The Senate waited only long enough to deliver a warm tribute to America's late Ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick, who was buried today in Ohio, before it adjourned for the day. The address of Senator Burton was the only one in the Senate.

FLOOD OF BILLS

SUBMITTED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Despite the determination of Republican House leaders to confine the activities of committees to farm relief and tariff revision legislation, a flood of bills affecting nearly every section of the country and many of its laws, poured in on the Speaker's table today after Congress convened.

In contrast, not a single measure was presented in the Senate but many are expected there in the days ahead.

The leading measure—the farm relief bill—was given the number "one" and is to be referred to committee tomorrow as soon as the House Agriculture Committee formally is organized.

All the other measures that could be handled today were referred to the Speaker after a conference with Republican leaders. But these committees are not to be organized under the plan of the majority leaders, so just what status these bills have was a question lacking an official answer tonight.

ST. LOUIS, April 15. (AP)—The body of Lieut. Shapley Gray of the Missouri National Guard air unit was found this morning in a field near Gumbo, twenty miles west of here. The lieutenant had jumped from his plane when his motor stalled while on a return trip from Jefferson City late yesterday.

The flyer's parachute was found intact strapped to his body with the release cord still in his pocket, indicating he had failed to pull the cord.

Capt. William B. Wimer, pilot, also leaped from the plane but made a safe parachute landing. The plane, an army training ship, was demolished.

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—The formalities of the convening of the new Congress hardly had been disposed of today before steps were taken in the Senate to press for action on the pending proposal to investigate the right of Andrew W. Mellon to continue as Secretary of the Treasury.

In line with a resolution sponsored by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, at the session called after the death of the Seventeenth Congress to confirm the Hoover Cabinet, the Senate Judiciary Committee arranged to meet Wednesday to consider the question.

The resolution asked for a determination of whether a Cabinet officer might continue from one administration to another without re-nomination, and whether Mr. Mellon's extensive holdings conflicted with an old statute forbidding the Secretary of the Treasury to be interested in trade or commerce.

Chairman Norris called the special meeting after conferences with the other committee members. # REAPPORTIONING EXPERTS AGREE

Census Bureau Committee
Approves Bill

Amity Paves Way for Quick
Action, Senator Says

Fenn Measure Closely
Followed in Text

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Agreement of experts on the mathematical phases of the new reapportionment bill was announced today by Senator Vandenberg, Michigan, Republican, sponsor of the proposal.

Vandenberg disclosed that the advisory committee of the Census Bureau has unanimously approved the bill, that surviving members of the whole advisory committee of 1921 approved it and that Director Stewart and his assistant, Dr. Joseph A. Hill, of the Census Bureau also subscribed to it. Disagreement of the experts was one of the obstacles to passage of the House bill in the Senate last session.

GIVES STRENGTH

"The results demonstrate," Vandenberg said, "that the new bill will have more powerful credentials than ever before because it will have the indorsement of many experts who heretofore have been split wide open in rival camps in the war of the quinquennial."

Among the experts said to have voiced approval are Prof. Walter F. Willcox of Cornell University; Prof. Robert E. Chadwick of Columbia University; Prof. George Barnett of Johns Hopkins University, and other members of the American Statistical Association and the American Economics Association.

Vandenberg has been assured of action on the bill in the special session.

The new bill, Vandenberg said, will closely follow the Fenn bill, which passed the House, but failed of action in the Senate. It will provide for automatic reapportionment of the House of Representatives after each census if Congress fails to act independently. It differs from the Fenn bill, however, in certain mechanical details, which, Vandenberg said, will "make for permanency."

PLANS OF SPONSOR

"The principal change," he explained, "abandons any specific definition of the mathematical methods to be followed in an automatic reapportionment. The new bill calls for the methods in the last apportionment. This permits the measure to accommodate itself with whatever serial decision Congress makes in actual decennial apportionment."

Seventy Years on Stage

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—Katie Mayhew, who has the longest stage record of any actress still appearing before Broadway's footlights, today celebrated her seventy-fifth birthday.

A flower-decked birthday cake, covered with seventy-six candles—the extra one to symbolize the septuagenarian's optimism—telegrams, callers and gifts helped the veteran actress celebrate.

Miss Mayhew, who was born in Indianapolis, made her debut at the age of 4. Today she expressed a desire to make a "talkie."

Announcements and thus avoids temporary definitions in permanent legislation.

Vandenberg said he will introduce the bill at "the first moment the Senate is ready to receive new legislation."

Florida Realty Trio Indicted

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) April 15. (AP)—Three officials of the Dixie Bay Shore Company of Volusia county, Florida, were indicted in an asserted land-fraud scheme by a Federal grand jury here.

The indictment containing ten counts was returned against Ray L. Selden, Daytona Beach, as president of the corporation; Abraham Orata (alias Abraham Oratch), as vice-president, and Frank Andrew Bennett (alias Advise Kramer Orata, alias David Orata, alias Robert Williams, alias David Gray) as secretary-treasurer.

The latter two men reside in Pittsburgh but were understood now to be in Miami, Fla. All three are under $5,000 bonds.

ST. LOUIS, April 15. (AP)—W. E. Humphrey, Federal trade commissioner, in an address today before the annual meeting of the American Zinc Institute, declared that the people of the country are being robbed of hundreds of millions of dollars annually by false and misleading advertisements appearing in newspapers and magazines.

Some of the more glaring instances of this class of advertisement might be cited, he said. "Those holding out alluring promises of lucrative employment; patent medicine advertisements for incurable diseases, frequently injurious, never of any value, and often by holding out false hopes prevent the victim from seeking any real relief until it is too late."

BEAUTY FAKES

"Various methods for correcting bodily deformities are exploited: beauty creams and various rejuvenating cosmetics—all of them frauds and swindles and perhaps the greatest of all just at the present moment are the various artificial remedies: appliances, soaps, belts, machines, powders and medicines; all of them fakes and all of them dishonest."

"Fabulous sums are spent for these frauds since the female skeleton has become the fashion in this country. Their restorers are one of the most intriguing and aged frauds. Few men with bald heads seem to be able to withstand the allurements of this ancient and shameless fake."

HOUSE-CLEANING SOON

Commissioner Humphrey said that following a conference last October the majority of the publishers promised co-operation in eliminating this class of advertisements and that the results generally had been good.

"Some few are not keeping their promises," he declared. "We are going to force decency upon these few. We are going to clean their house for them."

You women who are letting your hair grow long, be on guard against dandruff, which is a common germ condition.

If you, or any of your family, have any sign of it, douse on Listerine, full strength. Massage the scalp thoroughly with the finger tips. Use a little olive oil in conjunction, if scalp or hair is excessively dry.

Keep this treat-

RADIO TO BE AID OF SEADROMES

"Stepping Stones" in Atlantic Will be Fully Equipped

Floating Landing Fields Project Under Way

First of Seven Being Built at Immense Cost

BY MARTIN CODEL

(Overright, 1929, by North American Publishing Co.)
WASHINGTON, April 15. (Exclusive)—All the way across the North Atlantic the "stepping stones" for a thirty-two-hour ocean transit by airplane projected by E. R. Armstrong, inventor of the seadrome system for landing, refueling and taking off in deep ocean, will be linked by radio. The first of the seadromes now is being built at Chester, Pa., just above Wilmington on the Delaware River, and will be towed to anchorage at a point half way to Bermuda about this time next year.

While in Washington to consult with naval authorities and government experts on various phases of the huge engineering project Mr. Armstrong investigated the radio details. His radio plans, he said, have about been formulated. Radio will play an indispensable part in the enterprise and no expense will be spared in equipping the most modern radio aids to air and sea navigation.

Radio will be employed for a threefold purpose. First, and most important, each seadrome and terminal will be installed with radio beacon transmitters to hold the planes to their courses by enabling the pilots to consult dial indicators on their instrument boards.

FIRST ONE BEING BUILT
Second, loop receivers will be installed for taking compass bearings in the same way that ships at sea now obtain bearings by radio. Thus the plane's whereabouts always will be known and bearings can be flashed to the pilot whenever necessary.

The third use is one that civil aviation is developing fast for overseas services. Continuous telephone and telegraph communication between seadromes and terminals and between planes in flight will be maintained through the medium of radio. Tentative radio plans also contemplate the possible erection of broadcasting stations on some of the seadromes for transmitting programs from the international recreational centers into which the hotels on the seadromes are expected to develop.

Backed by strong capital, the first seadrome of the Armstrong project is being built at a cost of $2,500,000 to $3,000,000. It is one of seven which are to be anchored about 400 miles apart to effect the fast transatlantic crossings from terminals at New York, New York, Atlantic City and Washington to points in Europe. High-speed Sikorsky amphibians capable of taking off and landing either on water or on the flat surface of the seadrome will be used.

The Bermuda seadrome, according to Mr. Armstrong, will take six months to build. It will be anchored about 375 land miles from New York and is intended as a sort of shuttle terminal for the North Atlantic string of seadromes that will link the planes to Europe via the Azores.

WELL FINANCED
The Armstrong seadrome is 1300 feet long, 200 feet wide at the ends and 400 feet wide in the center. Models and projection drawings show its surface to be similar to the decks of aircraft carriers in appearance. It displaces 25,000 tons and has a draft of 160 feet. The flat surface area, upon which a hotel accommodating several hundred persons, hangars and other quarters will be constructed, stands eighty feet above sea level.

Every engineering detail has been worked out to the finest point with the assistance of some of the ablest men in the fields of air and sea construction and navigation. Far from being regarded as impracticable, the project has the private financial backing of some of America's leading industrialists and the endorsement of outstanding engineers. The inventor is a well-known consulting and test engineer for the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, now on leave of absence from his company to work on the project.

The deep draft of the seadrome and its high level above the water's surface insure its freedom from the effects of wind and waves. According to the inventor, the seadrome will not even be subjected to the swaying that is felt aboard an ocean liner because of its immense size and the adaptation of certain proven engineering principles to its construction.

He regards these "stepping stones" as the basis of the future method for swift ocean crossings with passengers and freight.

Medical Board Loses Gland Ad Ethics Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, April 15. (AP)—Ruling that the State Medical Board was dilatory in filing its appeal, the District Appellate Court today refused to interfere in the controversy between the board and Dr. Clayton E. Wheeler, gland specialist, over the ethics of certain advertisements published by the San Francisco physician.

The State Board had appealed from a San Francisco Superior Court order restoring to Dr. Wheeler his license, which had been revoked in October, 1927, for asserted violation of the Medical Practice Act. Advertisements were held to be illegal by the medical body. When the State filed an appeal from the Superior Court Dr. Wheeler filed a motion to dismiss it on the ground that the sixty-day period allowed for an appeal had expired. The District Court was in accord with this contention and dismissed the State Board's appeal to-day.

PLANES SCORE IN ANTARCTIC

Byrd Proves Their Value for Such Exploration

Flights Successful Despite Unusual Difficulties

Reliability of Motors Proved;
Many Lessons Learned

BY RUSSELL OWEN

(Copyright, 1939, by the Los Angeles Times. New York Times and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. All rights reserved.)

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctic)

April 15. (Exclusive)—The airplane has proved its value in the Antarctic. Flying has been done under the most severe conditions, in cold far below zero, through snow squalls, over surfaces obscured by drift and surrounded by an indefinite horizon. Motors have shown no mechanical failures and landing gear has stood up on fields so rough that at home no pilot would dream of taking off on them with a load. The reliability of modern air-cooled motors and the strength of modern welded-steel construction have been demonstrated many times.

The planes have performed well because Antarctic conditions were anticipated. It has been found that methods for meeting a condition were sufficient, although in some cases protective measures have been extended. And many valuable lessons have been learned, one of the most important being that every airplane for use in this country of violent winds should have folding wings. Airplanes that can be flown here with safety on flights of reasonable length can be secured in the open in a territory of strong winds and stored for winter with security. Their more extensive use here is unquestionable.

PLANE'S VALUE PROVED

"Aviation definitely has taken its place in exploration," said Commander Byrd today. "Work done by the airplane and dirigible in the north polar region now is being done successfully in the Antarctic. It has been shown that a country accessible only through arduous and dangerous effort by the old methods may be explored quickly and more thoroughly by plane. And when to exploration is added an accurate aerial survey with a camera the old method is so immeasurably surpassed that there seems little comparison except for detailed work such as that of the geologist."

"There are some who doubted the applicability of the airplane to Arctic exploration before this expedition started. Their objections, however, were based on insufficient knowledge of aviation. The sudden winds, snowstorms and bad visibility of the Antarctic were deemed insurmountable obstacles to a successful work. These difficulties were realized and anticipated by us. But we have been able so far to avoid the high winds while in the air, to command the snowstorms and to overcome bad visibility by instrument flying. I should judge that 90 per cent of our flying has been by instruments, because it has been impossible to distinguish the surface or horizon at times during flights.

RESULTS ACHIEVED

"The results so far have exceeded our expectations and I am now more than ever convinced that in a region so inaccessible as Antarctica the airplane is the logical method for exploration except where local conditions make it prohibitive. We have flown over thousands of square miles of territory never before seen, have surveyed and mapped it and landed on it for closer geological examination and to fix its position. Thus, we have lost one airplane but we were pioneering and I believe from the experience gained that such losses can be avoided by future air explorers. So I think the record of this preliminary work speaks well for the use of the airplane in exploration and points the way to an even greater record to be written not only by us but also by those who will come after us."

An airplane to function successfully in Antarctica must, however, be specially prepared for strains and temperatures to be encountered. Flying with loads of rough surfaces where a plane bounces and smashes its way into the air necessitates strengthening landing gear and in some cases redesigning it, and to prevent the motor from becoming cold and stopping at a time when a forced landing would result in a crack-up requires most careful cowlings and protection.

BENNETT'S PREPARATIONS

"These flights have been made successfully because more than a year ago while Byrd Bennett was alive he began preparing for them," said Byrd. Bennett had had the invaluable experience of flying in the Arctic with Byrd and the North Pole flight, both pioneer efforts in the Arctic, and he knew the difficulties to be met. Bennett would have been second in command of the expedition and those of us who knew him well often think of him and miss him. The six here, who arrived in San Francisco last Saturday, are keeping the motor warm. The lost mark so far encountered in-

The pictures, just brought back from Antarctica by returning members of the Byrd expedition depict the unloading of one of the expedition's airplanes on the ice barrier of the Bay of Whales, at right; the Pooker plane, later wrecked by one 100-mile wind in the Rockefeller mountains, with Pilot Berni, Bachman sitting near it, and below the two ships City of New York and the Eleanor Bolling tied up at the ice barrier. The crumbling of the ice on the barrier almost caused a catastrophe.

Slight has been 35 below and next spring here it is probable flights will be made in much colder weather. The heating problem has been solved by cowlings motors so that 40 per cent of cooling surface area is covered. Adjustable shutters and cowlings are used so that motors may be flown in temperatures as warm as in summer at home. A small shutter opening was left in cowlings around cranks to cool the engine, but down here it is kept closed. All oil, oil pumps and oil tanks are lagged with fourteen inches of asbestos. Outside the lagging, whenever possible, has been wrapped with fabric which is sewed and hemmed, making it airtight. Unusual drains are used on gas tanks so they may be drained quickly when the motor is stopped.

PROPER CARBURATION

Proper carburization is obtained by an adjustable heating system from the exhaust, which heats the air both before and after its passage through the carburetor. Most of the heat is applied after the mixture leaves the carburetor and just enough heat is obtained this way to get efficiency without increasing the size of the jets. The system is not yet perfect, as gas consumption is about 10 per cent more than in normal temperatures.

During a photographic flight at 10,000 feet in temperatures 35 below zero, the engine began backfiring and missing due to the lack of heat in the oil system. The oil temperature normally is from 140 to 160 deg. Fahrenheit, but on this occasion it fell to 100 deg. Fahrenheit. The engine was brought up to 145, and there has been no further trouble. It is believed eventually, it will be possible to inclose the entire air-cooled engine in cowlings—so the flow of air may be regulated and an even temperature maintained at all times. Such complete cowlings would be ideal for Antarctic flying.

METHOD OF STARTING

The method of starting engines in this climate has been considerably improved by experience, so now an engine choked with ice or snow may be melted out and started in three-quarters of an hour. It is frequently found after a storm that fine snow has drifted in through tiny openings in the canvas, covering every bit of space between the cylinders and rods. Even the inside cowlings are packed hard with snow. Valve box covers are filled with a paste of snow and congealed oil and the entire engine is so stiff that a man can throw his weight on the propeller without budging it. This looks rather hopeless until the heater is put under the engine and it is melted out. Even if the engine could be turned over carburization in a cold engine at 30 below zero would be impossible.

To overcome this condition the entire engine is covered with a fireproof canvas cover which incloses also a section containing the oil lines, oil tanks and carburetor. From the bottom of this covering a tube of the same material extends to the engine and a blow torch is placed under it. Even in the coldest weather with a high wind it is possible to heat the motor to a temperature of 120 deg. Fahrenheit in forty-five minutes. Hot oil then is poured in, the engine is primed thoroughly and the propeller turned around while the engine is still cold. When the oil is removed and the engine started. The only failure since operations were begun was from improper priming due to lack of familiarity with the method.

CHECKING VALVES

Checking valves is a more arduous and difficult thing here than at home. It first is necessary to

Gov. Dern Names Three on Board Created by Act of Legislature

BALT LAKE CITY, April 15. (Exclusive)—W. B. Wallace, Richard R. Lyman and W. W. Ray, all of Salt Lake City, were appointed by Gov. Dern to constitute the Utah Colorado River Commission created by enactment of the last Legislature to look after Utah's rights and interests in the Colorado River.

Wallace has been chairman of the State Water Storage Commission for several years and has also held a position as Colorado River Commissioner during the administration of Gov. Dern. It is probable that he will be selected as chairman of the board of three now named.

Lyman has been vice-chairman of the Water Storage Board for some years and is named to fill the post of engineer on this board. For a number of years past he has been associated with reclamation interests.

The appointment of Ray fills the position of attorney on the board for which the new law provided. Ray has been prominently identified with the administration's policies pertaining to the Colorado River subject and also pertaining to water rights disputes.

GERMAN DELAYS REPLY ON DEBTS

Paris Conference Faces New Scaling-Down Process

Private Conversations Will be Continued Today

Hoover's Attitude Arouses Much Speculation

PARIS, April 15. (AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German spokesman, faced representatives of the creditors of his country today and apparently deferred temporarily a positive answer of yes or no to their bill for damages incurred in the World War.

After a closed plenary session of the experts' committee on reparations lasting an hour and ten minutes, during which Dr. Schacht had the floor a great part of the time, the experts adjourned until 11 a.m. tomorrow. The only actual decision arrived at was not to publish the figures contained in the Allies' bill at present.

A wish of the creditor nation delegates to study their figures further was announced as the official reason for the adjournment.

NEW CUTS SOUGHT

This time, it is believed, Dr. Schacht and his conferees may in an attempt by private conversations with the creditor nation delegates to scale down the annuities and total figures still further. There is nothing today to indicate what these totals may be, but when they were handed to Germany Friday a present claims value of between $10,000,000,000 and $12,000,000,000 and an eventual value of around $34,000,000,000 was understood.

It is assumed that Dr. D. Young, who had a hand in scaling down the claims of the creditor nations to the point they now have reached, today undertook to conciliate in some measure the German and Allied viewpoints. Some believe this conciliation will take less than a single day, and that at tomorrow's plenary session a further adjournment will be taken, permitting the entire remainder of the week to be taken up in the private discussions of figures.

MUCH SPECULATION

There is much speculation among those outside today's session as to what effect Washington dispatches telling of a meeting Saturday of President Hoover with Secretaries Mellon and Stimson on the subject of reparations had to do with today's developments.

The dispatches raised the presumption here that President Hoover is being kept informed of the work of the experts and that from information he has received he found it necessary to confer with two of his aides. From this presumption it is but a short step, some say, to the conclusion that the American President has found the creditors' demands excessive.

Thomas W. Lamont, when asked whether there is any connection between Saturday's conference and the work of the experts said he does not know. A regular daily visit of a secretary of the United States Embassy to the Hotel George V, where the reparations sessions have taken place, is construed as evidence that Washington is being kept informed as to developments.

CENTRIST LEADER LEADS FOR HONESTY

BERLIN, April 15. (AP)—The prelate, Dr. Kaas, leader of the Centrist party, at a meeting here was accorded an ovation when he declared with reference to the Paris reparations conference, “better an honest no than an insincere yes.”

He urged alterations of the German-Polish border and the Danzig corridor as an absolute necessity to peaceful commercial relations between the two countries.

MORE OPTIMISM FERRAILS IN BERLIN

BERLIN, April 15. (AP)—Government circles today are more optimistic over possibilities for a settlement of Germany's reparations problems by the second Dawes committee at Paris, after perusal of the text of the Allied delegates' memorandum.

Hope is entertained at the Wilhelmstrasse that a solution acceptable to both sides yet may be found, inasmuch as an examination of the memorandum shows that it is not to be construed as an ultimatum but as a basis for discussion.

In its present form the memorandum is considered as a bad bargain in exchange for the present Dawes plan. Germany would receive only relatively slight reduction in annuities, said government officials, and would be obliged to give up transfer protection now enjoyed under the Dawes plan, to agree to extend reparations payments from thirty-seven to fifty-eight years, and to help commercialize part of the capital debt.

It is intimated that rather than accept such terms as these Germany prefers continuance of the Dawes plan until its impossibility is demonstrated beyond any doubt.

STIMSON DECLINES TO DISCUSS MATTER

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Secretary Stimson said today he knows of no change in the American policy regarding the separation of the questions of Allied obligations and German reparations.

Beyond that he declined to reply to questions whether the United States is negotiating for a reduction or withdrawal of its claims for American army costs of occupation on the Rhine and arrears of payments under the German-American mixed claims commission's awards. He refused also to comment on his conference with President Hoover and Secretary Mellon Saturday.

The total expense incurred by the American occupation of the Rhine was $291,995,285, of which there still is owing to the United States $200,616,941.

INQUIRY ON RESIGNED JUDGE WILL CONTINUE

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—The House Judiciary subcommittee, appointed to investigate the official conduct of Federal Judge Francis A. Winawer of the southern district of New York, decided today to make further inquiries before determining whether to drop the case in view of the judge's recent resignation.

DRY FLOUTING FLOUTED

Night Club “Bad Boys” Parade Through New York Court With Light Fines and Suspended Sentences

NEW YORK, April 15. (Exclusive)—With the rude laughter of the populace echoing through the corridors of the Federal Building, thirty-five flouters of the elastic old prohibition law today were told they were “bad boys” and then given light fines and suspended prison sentences.

Proprietors, managers, waiters—this morning she arrayed herself in a black ensemble, a black hat and a silver fox scarf and rode down to Federal court to stand trial as a nuisance and get her share of publicity which the government so charmingly has made possible. Jack Edwin C. Thomas of Connecticut who closed the jail doors and, left them on the outside. Fines amounting to $4700 were collected, which may or may not be enough to pay for the dry agents' whoopee parties.

But Helen Morgan, the sad-eyed crooner of blues songs who sang her way from Danville, Ill. right into the slightly alcoholic heart of Broadway, has to wait until tomorrow to sit with Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt's young legal gentlemen.

Helen may not do battle with the prohibitionists at all, for the government is just a bit weary after its three-day lull with Texas Guinan in which twelve men in the jury box demonstrated conclusively they preferred blondes to dry agents. Leslie Salter, one of Mrs. Willebrandt's young traveling lawyers, was sent in today to pinch hit for Norman J. Morrison, who had filed out in the Guinan case.

Mr. Salter still is firm in his intention to find out what the New York juryman think of brunettes. Miss Morgan, who left her Illinois Sunday-school to divide her time between Ziegfeld's “Show Boat” and Helen Morgan's Summer Home—which is just another name for a night club—is every inch a brunette.

Hoover Booked for Second Talk

WASHINGTON, April 15. (AP)—Aside from the address which he will deliver next Monday at the Associated Press annual luncheon in New York, President Hoover will make one other speech this month. This will be on the 27th inst. at the exhibit of the public buildings plan for the national capital, to be held at the United States Chamber of Commerce Building, near the White House.

The President will speak for only ten minutes. The exhibit is under the direction of the Treasury Department and Secretary Mellon also will make a brief address.

RUMOR SLATES MICHIGAN MAN

Hoover's Eye Declared to be on Judge Denison

Chairmanship of Commission on Enforcement Open

Selection of Federal Jurist for Post Probable

WASHINGTON, April 15. (Exclusive)—Arthur C. Denison of Grand Rapids, Mich., Federal circuit judge for the Sixth Circuit, sitting at Cincinnati, is a probable selection by President Hoover as chairman of the commission which is to investigate national law-enforcement conditions with a particular eye to prohibition, according to reports coming from semi-official sources here today.

The President, it was known, is seriously considering his appointment. Judge Denison is a protégé of Chief Justice Taft, having been started on his judicial career by Mr. Taft when the latter was President with his selection as a Federal district judge in 1916 and later being elevated by Taft to his present post.

President Hoover, according to latest word, has met with difficulty in finding the right man of judicial or legal training to head this commission and will be ready to make public the entire make-up of the commission as soon as he fits upon a chairman.

DIFFERENT DIFFERENT DIFFERENT! DIFFERENT!

RICHFIELD-ETHYL is actually 40% BETTER

THIS NEW process Richfield Gasoline, to which Ethyl fluid has been added, is as different from other “Ethyls” as they are from ordinary gasolines. It is actually, measurably, 40% better!

The Ethyl Corporation, to insure a truly premium Ethyl gasoline, has wisely insisted upon a very high standard of gasoline by all of its licensees.

This standard, plus the necessary 2 cubic centimeters of Ethyl compound per gallon, insures an efficient anti-knock fuel for all motors up to 5 to 1 compression ratio. The same amount of Ethyl—added to the new super Richfield, however, produces an anti-knock high compression gasoline efficient up to 7.5 to 1 compression—actually 40% better!

Ethyl is only the cream in your coffee. The actual difference in gasolines is in the fuel itself. That is why Richfield-Ethyl is so far superior to any other gasoline sold. It is definitely, provably, 40% finer than the finest standard demanded by the Ethyl Corporation itself!

Are Your Trees and Shrubs Starving to Death?

It is surprising to see the great number of trees that are actually starving—the dying and sickly trees and shrubs that are caused by lack of nourishment.

Trees, after all, are nothing but very large plants. They need the same feeding care you would give your lawn, flowers or vegetable garden.

For trees and shrubs, like all plants, are living things. They require plenty of good nourishing food, just like humans. And similarly, they thrive best on a "balanced diet."

Cities are particularly hard on them. Roots are covered and crowded by paving, by buildings, gas mains, water pipes.

Wherever you see yellowish or undersized leaves, dying branches, short twig growth, you'll almost always find shrubs and trees that are starving. Ready to succumb to diseases, decay, and the attacks of insects.

To overcome this condition, gardeners and nurserymen for years have used an effective, simple method that any home owner can employ. They apply Vigoro, a scientific, complete plant food that supplies the properly balanced nourishment required for sturdy growth and full development.

With proper feedings of Vigoro, trees and shrubs acquire heavier, more luxuriant foliage, longer twig growth, better color. With this same plant food that grows thicker, greener lawns, perfectly colored flowers, and crisp, flavorful vegetables.

Clean and odorless, Vigoro can be sown by hand, like grass seed.

Its cost of application is surprisingly low—only 10c to 20c for every 100 square feet. Full directions in every bag—100, 50, 25 lb. sizes and 5 lb. packages.

See your dealer. There's one close by. Get your Vigoro now—enough for everything you grow. And this year have results such as you've never before dreamed possible.

The Plant Feeding Guide

1. LAWNS: Apply plant food every four to six weeks at the rate of 2 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.
2. FLOWERS: Work plant food into the soil before setting or setting out plants. For early, large, richly colored blossoms, make frequent light applications.
3. VEGETABLES: Work plant food into the soil before setting. Later feedings will hasten maturity, increase yields.
4. SHRUBS, TREES: Apply plant food at any time during the growing season.

GRAPE INQUIRY LIMITS DEFINED

Dry Agents Not to Hurt
Sale of Crop

Federal Men Only Concerned
With Bootleg Trade

California's Representatives
Ready to Fight

WASHINGTON, April 15. (Exclusive)—The Federal prohibition office has no intention in its investigation of the California grape industry of interfering with the sale of grapes for legitimate purposes, but possible prosecution awaits growers who sell grapes with the knowledge they are to be used in the making of intoxicating beverages in violation of the National Prohibition Act.

This was stated in a letter from James J. Britt, acting prohibition commissioner, made public today by Representative Englebright of California.

Mr. Britt did not say how the enforcement unit planned to determine when grape growers are violating the prohibition code, but indicated that the conspiracy section will be invoked in cases where evidence warranted. He quoted two sections of the act and continued:

DRY LAW CITED
"The sale of grapes or grape juice with knowledge or intent that same will be used in the production of wine or other intoxicating liquor in the home or elsewhere for beverage purposes would be in violation of the sections of law quoted and might involve liability under Section 37 of the Criminal Code pertaining to conspiracy. It will thus be seen that the liability depends upon the intent of the seller, which is a question of fact in each particular case. This office, however, has no intention of interfering with the sale of grapes for legitimate purposes."

California members of Congress, up in arms over the inquiry into California grape growing after suggesting that the enforcement bureau also investigate growers of potatoes, cherries, peaches, rye, wheat and all other fruits, vegetables and cereals which lend themselves to the manufacturing of intoxicating beverages.

LEA'S STATEMENT
Representative Lea of Santa Rosa, Cal., conferred with officials of the prohibition bureau today regarding the California grape investigation and afterward issued a statement saying the inquiry will result in a definition of the rights of the industry and will stabilize it. His statement follows:

"I conferred with the prohibition department with a view of learning the purpose of the proposed investigation in reference to the sale of grapes and other products used in the manufacture of alcoholic liquors. I am assured that no action is contemplated that will interfere with the production and legitimate sale of grapes. The Volstead Act specifically authorizes the manufacture of fermented fruit juices in the home for home consumption. The use of grapes for such purposes was contemplated when that provision was written into the Volstead Act. I feel assured that the department does not contemplate denying to the grape growers or the consumer the rights reserved to them under the Volstead Act."

WONT HURT SALE

The prohibition laws do not authorize a search warrant to invade private homes for the purpose of obtaining evidence of the manufacture of any kind of liquor, provided there is no evidence that the liquor is being used for sale. It is not contemplated that the sale of grapes for home use as authorized by law shall be interfered with. It is becoming more and more recognized that the invasion of the private home to obtain evidence of the home manufacture of liquors for home purposes, particularly of the fermented class of liquors, is beyond the legitimate function of the Federal government.

"The department has a proper interest in investigating the subject with a view of devising means of preventing the diversion of large quantities of grapes from legitimate channels to the bootleg trade. That is the primary purpose of the investigation so far as grapes are concerned."

"I recognize that a harassing investigation holding out a threat of indiscriminate prosecution of buyers of grapes largely would destroy the market value of our California grape crop, particularly if such investigation should be conducted immediately preceding or during the marketing period. I am assured that this investigation will be completed well in advance of the marketing season."

Gov. Long Loses Point in Trial of Impeachment

BATON ROUGE, (La.) April 15. (P)—The Louisiana State Senate, convened as an impeachment trial court, after a two-hour debate tonight killed a move by supporters of Long to amend the rules of procedure which would have halted the work of the house in bringing further charges against the Governor. The vote was twenty-three to fifteen.

Two charges have been voted in the House, that of intimidation of the press, and bribery.

The House tonight in a brief session took testimony on two other counts charging the Governor with carrying concealed weapons and breaking up quorums in the last regular session of the Legislature.

OLD CRIME LAID TO SLAYER

Confessed Torch Murderer Found to be Embezzler, Bigamist and ex-Convict

ELIZABETH (N. J.) April 15. (Exclusive)—A new guise for Henry Colin Campbell—that of embezzler and prolific bigamist—was brought to light today in the exhaustive investigation being prosecuted to hook up his confession of the so-called flame murder of Mrs. Mildred Mowry with the strikingly similar crime in which Miss Margaret Brown was beaten and burned to death a year and a day before.

A record and fingerprints found Campbell having bigamously married, in the New York City Bureau of Identification showed Campbell to have been a criminal as far back as nearly forty years ago. He served five years for forgery in San Francisco in 1890, and fifteen years later, in New York, he was sentenced to serve seven years for embezzlement.

The now 40-year-old Jekyll-Hyde was a dapper gentleman in those days, his record shows, and at one time supported three wives, sharing his time equally among them here.

Then after having embezzled $15,000 from the Palmer Schramm Company, New York dealers in photographers' supplies, where he was employed under the name of Henry P. Closs, he vanished suddenly, leaving all three women destitute, one with a child.

The dubious honor fell to him later of being the first American ever to be extradited from Mexico. This came about after detectives had watched the wives and trailed one of them to Vera Cruz. There they located the fugitive and through a newly arranged extradition treaty, brought him back to New York for trial on the embezzlement charge.

Campbell, or Closs as he then was known, confessed his pecuniaries, declaring he had spent the $15,000 on women and horse racing, and served his term in Sing Sing. With that his police record ended until the Mowry murder case solution brought about his arrest. His wives in 1880 were listed by the police as Sarah Phelan, Marie Becker and Maud Allen, alias Mrs. May Parkinson Powers, of Pawtucket, R. I. The first died, according to Campbell, while in Australia, but trace of the other two is lacking by the police as well as by the mate they shared—or so he said today.

ATTACK MADE ON ALIBI
Three other women with whom he went through a marriage ceremony were his present wife, Mrs. Rosalie Campbell of Elizabeth; the murdered Mrs. Mowry, whom he

AMERICANS DETAINED IN MADRID JAIL

Youth and Woman Held on Charge of Criticizing Spanish Government

PARIS, April 16. (P) (Tuesday)—The Paris edition of the New York Herald-Tribune today prints a dispatch from Hendaye on the Spanish frontier, saying that William Wright of Washington, D. C., an employee of the American commission to the Seville Exposition, and an American woman have been arrested in Madrid, charged with criticizing the Spanish government.

The woman had married a Spaniard named Bonillo. Wright and Senora Bonillo were said to have made audible criticism in a cafe in Granada of the way the government handled the recent student demonstrations in Madrid and Barcelona. They were arrested after they left the cafe and held incommunicado until they were removed to Madrid.

Wright is said to be 19 years of age. At the request of friends, the American Embassy and Consulate have taken steps to obtain his release.

Probate Denied Woman's Bequest of Her Children

CHICAGO, April 15. (Exclusive)—The will of Mrs. Daisy Malach, who two hours before her death February 21, last, willed her two children to her mother in order to prevent the father, Oliver, from gaining custody of them, was refused probate today by Judge Horner.

Judge Horner said that a will giving custody of children must at the same time dispose of personal property.

The attorney representing the grandmother announced that an appeal will be taken. Meanwhile the children are living with the grandmother.

HERRICK RITES BEFIT HIS RANK

Services Given for Ambassador

Rain Descends as Taps Sounded

Lindbergh and Other Notables Attend

CHICAGO, April 15. (P)—While clouds poured through a disheveled sky that surrounded Lake Michigan, the body of Myron Herrick was laid to rest today in a city which knew him first as a statesman and then as a statesman beloved by two nations.

The service at Trinity Episcopal church for the American Ambassador to France, who died two years ago at the embassy in Paris, was impressive and stately as befit the rank of one of the nation's best-known diplomats, and yet was simple and unostentatious in keeping with the modesty of the man.

The service was attended by representatives of the American government, including Gov. Myers V. Cooper, and Charles A. Lindbergh and other notables. The cathedral was filled with many who knew the ambassador intimately and thousands stood in silent tribute in the nave outside the church.

THREE WREATHS
The casket was a the foot of the altar and the tricolor of France and the Stars and Stripes draped over it. At the head was placed the French Legion of Honor medal which Herrick had received. Only three wreaths, sent by President Hoover, Gov. Cooper and Secretary of State Stimson, were used.

In the casket's pew were Parson Herrick, son of the statesman; Myron Herrick, Parson Herrick's son; Orin Herrick, brother of Parson Herrick; and the diplomat himself.

SAP HINDERING RADIO IN WOODS

Forestry Department Makes Special Study

Tree Absorption Cause of Poor Reception

Miles of Wire Could Be Saved
by Ether Messages

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The use of radio in conjunction with the work of forestry officials is being studied by various agencies, including the Army Signal Corps, forestry officials and the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University.

Sundry difficulties have been encountered in radio reception in the depths of forests. It appears that both reception and transmission become affected to a relatively unknown extent by tree absorption.

This apparently is at its height in the spring, summer and fall, when the trees are full of sap.

The forestry college has just received a bulletin on the subject which says in part: "There is plenty of light radio equipment, both for sending and receiving, on the market that would appear effective in providing communication for foresters in their movements from place to place."

"Aside from technical matters, as to the best way lengths to use, type of battery, length and arrangement of antenna, there are mysterious barriers that exist in the forest.
It is not definitely known as yet how an effective radio system of communication can be made a practical thing under forest conditions."

The bulletin also states that if radio can be utilized in protection for forest properties all over the country it would eliminate a network of telephone lines approximating some 40,000 miles in the national forests alone.

bin, Russian tenor. The hour program will include solo and duet numbers with orchestral accompaniment.

AMATEUR RADIO NIGHT POPULAR

ROANOKE (Va.) April 15. (AP) Amateur nights at station WJNB in this city have proved so popular that the station owners expect to continue them indefinitely. The first broadcast found fifty persons present for a hearing, and since then a corresponding number have been on hand each week.

LOSS OF JOB BLAMED FOR POISON DRAUGHT

Despondent because, in the opinion of police, she had lost her position, Mrs. Marie Minor, a maid, 29 years of age, made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide yesterday in her room at 859 San Jose street, by swallowing poison. She was discovered by Mrs. Elsa Newquist, landlady, and taken to Georgetown street Receiving Hospital, where surgeons gave her emergency treatment and pronounced her out of danger.

TWO BANDITS TIE AND ROB HOUSEWIFE

Pasadena Women, Bound
and With Gags in Mouth,
Rescued by Son

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, April 15.—Bound and gagged by two men and threatened with death if she made outcry, Mrs. J. H. Crawford, 35 years of age, looked on helplessly today while her assailants robbed her of $73 in her home at 1723 Mentone avenue, according to a story she told police after she had been found and released by her 9-year-old son John.

The attack was made upon her return from a shopping tour. As she entered the living-room, she saw the men seized her from behind, carried her into the bathroom, bound her to the plumbing with a tablecloth and gagged her with a washcloth. As she moved a hand in an effort to escape one of the men slapped her and told her if she uttered a word he would shoot
her. Then they took the money, which she had just drawn from the Pasadena National Bank, and disappeared. Shortly afterward her son arrived.

Detective Sergeant Schuchl is working on the case. The men had observed Mrs. Crawford enter the money from the bank and followed her home.
One was described as about 30, with a black mustache and wearing a dark hat and light suit, the other as about 25 and wearing a light hat and dark suit. Both are of medium build.

Kenneth McKenna is being brought on to play the masculine lead in "Scout of Sweet Almonds," which Clare Kummer has rewritten from the original stage play into a talking version.

The actor appeared in New York last season in "The Big Pond,"
George Middleton's play.

Donald Galaher is to direct the talking version of the play, with Charles Klein directing the silent version.

A change has been made in the cast of the picture, with Campbell Gullan of the New York stage, replacing Earle Foxe in an important role. Foxe is to be cast in another picture.

WALTER PIDGEON AS BILLIE DOVE'S LEAD

A singer as well as an actor being wanted to play opposite Billie Dove in First National's talking version of "Declasse," which has been retitled "The Lady With the Camellias."

Pidgeon has a s
been signed for the role.

Pidgeon is to warble several numbers which will be especially written for him. As is remembered, he is a member of the Famous Players.

Mr. Coates said that he was writing for $25,000 from the East, which sum he expected to bank. Mr.
Coates thought the bank to be made depository was the California Bank at Fifty-fourth street and Fourth avenue.

The partner said he supposed Mr.
Eaton had gone home until yesterday when he received a telegram from Mrs. Burton at her home, 718 Wilson avenue, Fresno, asking where her husband was. Mr.
Coates inquired at the El Rey Hotel, San Jose and San Pedro streets, where he was informed Mr. Burton had made telephoned reservation for Friday night, but did not occupy the room.

Detective Lieutenants Freudenberg and Wesel were detailed to look for the missing octogenarian.
Mr. Burton is described as alert mentally for his age, five feet nine inches in height, 165 pounds in weight, of medium build. He has white hair, blue eyes, a light complexion and wears gold-rimmed spectacles. He wore a grayish-brown overcoat, a dark suit, tan shoes, light gray hat, soft shirt and bow tie.

Suicide Threat Carried Out by Automobile Man

A threat frequently repeated, according to his wife, that one day he would kill himself, was carried out yesterday by John H. Randolph, 48-year-old automobile man, when he committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple at his home, 1248 Browning boulevard. His body was discovered by the wife, Mrs. Emma Randolph, and her daughter Margaret, 15 years of age, on their return from a shopping tour.

Mrs. Randolph told police that her husband failed in business some time ago and that his constant brooding over financial trouble resulted in a nervous breakdown recently, after which he often declared his intention to end his life.
The body was removed to County
Morgue.

In addition to Mrs. Randolph and Margaret, he leaves another daughter, Beverly, 11.

Bones' Rattle
Lures Museum
Head to Texas

Reports that the remains of prehistoric animals similar to those found in the La Brea pits recently were discovered in large numbers in a Cretaceous formation near El Paso induced the Board of Supervisors to send Dr. Bryan of the County Museum to the scene of the reported discovery. Dr. Bryan will leave next week.

According to local scientists, few geological discoveries have revealed fossil remains in quantities as profuse as those of the animals trapped in the La Brea pits in the tar pits on Wilshire Boulevard. It is of great scientific interest to find the same variety of animals 800 miles from Los Angeles.

Exhibits of bones in the local museum may be augmented by fossils of similar species if the Texas discoveries prove workable. Dr. Bryan said.

Honors for age for interest in civic duties are given to two Man-chuseta women. Mrs. Charlotte Goding, 94 years of age, of Pittsfield, and Mrs. Mary Nutting, 97, of Holyoke, have both registered as civic women.

Candidates to Address League

Lower assessments in special improvement districts in Los Angeles will be sought by the Equitable Assessment League, which has invited candidates for the Mayoralty and Council to speak at Jeffries Hall, Twenty-eighth and Dayton avenue, tonight. Besides excessive assessments the league opposes the financing of rapid transit lines by assessment districts.

P. H. Greer, J. C. Porter and William G. Bonelli, candidates for Mayor, and Leslie R. Saunders, candidate for Councilman from the Thirteenth District, have accepted the invitation to speak. A. J. Samuels will present the property owners' view, opposing charges so heavy as to be confiscatory and assessments which in many cases overlap, burdening property owners unduly.

The meeting will be the first of a series to determine where the candidates stand and to develop a constructive program.

UNION SQUARE DEBATED

The name of Union Square will be given to the intersection of the new line of Fifth with Sixth, Loomis, Broadway and Boylston streets, under the terms of a resolution introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Foster. The resolution asserts that there is no square of a similar name in the city, but Councilman Ingram immediately pointed out that there is a Union Square at Hoover and Twenty-third streets. Councilman Foster replied that the designation in the latter case is not official and President Bonelli cut off the argument by referring the matter to the City Planning Committee.

POLITICS
THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

BY THE EDITOR OF THE WATCHMAN

Many branches to co-operate with the central headquarters of John R. Quinn, candidate for Mayor at the May 7 primary, in the Alexandria, have been opened throughout the city, according to an announcement yesterday by O. T. Johnson, Jr., campaign treasurer.

Locations of the branch offices are: 11182 Weddington avenue, North Hollywood; Vine street, near Hollywood Boulevard, 11277 Santa Monica Boulevard, Sawtelle; 308 South-La Brea avenue, Los Angeles; 2773 Wilshire Boulevard, 5215 West Washington street, 721 West Santa Barbara avenue, 6302 South Broadway, 833 Euclid avenue, 2301 Maple avenue, 1690 Pacific avenue, Venice; 5112 West Adams street, Los Angeles; 2884 Pasadena avenue, 514 York Boulevard, Somerville Hotel, 4035 South Central avenue.

Harrison Cassell, chairman, and other members of the Quinn speakers' bureau, yesterday started a vigorous campaign to fill numerous engagements before civic and other organizations. Speeches will be made this week before various meetings by Mr. Quinn.

Ernest L. Webster, Councilman from the Third District, who is running for re-election, has announced his list of headquarters as follows:

Main headquarters, 877-811, South Western avenue; Larchmont headquarters, 138 North Larchmont Boulevard; headquarters, 5420 Wilshire Boulevard; Sawtelle headquarters, serving West Los Angeles, Security Bank Building, 11277 Santa Monica Boulevard.

Main headquarters of Lloyd S. Nix, candidate for Mayor, in the Lankershim Hotel, announced yesterday that the following branch headquarters are operating: Ex-service men, 327 1/2, South Hill street; Wilshire Boulevard and La Brea avenue, 4000 Avalon Boulevard, 4476 Sunset Boulevard and 5353 South Broadway.

That the people of Los Angeles should ask the United States government to extend the harbor breakwater 800 feet easterly from the present breakwater at government expense, is the opinion expressed yesterday at the City Club by Councilman Golden, who said that, if necessary, citizens should unite on this project to the exclusion of all efforts toward a unified port, a belt line and other improvements.

Pointing to the fact that Los Angeles and Long Beach have spent a total of $20,000,000 on their harbor, Councilman Golden said that the government, which has spent only $9,000,000 on the Los Angeles Harbor, should be willing to appropriate money for the building of the middle breakwater.

In anticipation of questions raised on campaign expenses, a voluntary statement was issued yesterday from Greer, headquarters by Neil S. McCarthy, chairman of the campaign committee.

"Mr. Greer has not put 5 cents into this mayor's campaign fund," said Mr. McCarthy. "On the other hand he has refused donations from all sources except personal friends and well-wishers known to have nothing to ask in return."

"For the sake of a clear comprehension on the part of the public and in justice to P. H. Greer, let us declare in advance that the money we are using represents solely the appreciation of Los Angeles business men for one of their number. It represents no group, trust or single interest, and Mr. Greer, to the end of the campaign, will adhere strictly to his public declarations that he will place himself under no obligations to outside influences."

"A large part of the outdoor advertising has been donated free and without solicitation, on the part of men who are known to have no ulterior motive such as future transactions with the city which Mr. Greer is elected. Through careful expenditures the balance of our campaign display has cost less than half of what it may seem to represent. We have no financial committee, no money raising organization, and we are keeping within our funds, where we shall stay."

A long list of citizens who have endorsed the candidacy of Col. Cooke for Council from the Second District (Hollywood), has just been issued from the Cooke campaign headquarters, 840 Hollywood Boulevard. The officers leading the list are Dr. E. O. Palmer, chairman; Mrs. J. F. Mead, vice-chairman; C. J. McLaughlin, treasurer, and Parker V. Foster, secretary. District chairmen are Mrs. Martha McLain, Mrs. Florence E. Banks, Mrs. Charles H. Lippincott and Mrs. George L. Eastman.

Accompanying the sponsors' list is a brief biographical sketch of Col. Cooke, a portion of which is as follows: "Col. Cooke has been a resident of Hollywood for twenty-one years. Perhaps he is best known as the foreman of the 1928 Los Angeles county grand jury, which indicted Asa Keys, Albert Marco, Martin Leach, Die Lucas and Harry Raymond and many others."

Frank Belcher, president of the Hollenbeck Heights Improvement Association, candidate for Council from the Ninth District, has been notified by the East Side Republican Club of his unanimous endorsement by that organization, it was announced at Belcher's headquarters.

William Reardon, president of the Lorena Heights Improvement Association, has been elected president of the Ninth District Citizens' Committee, organized to promote the election of Belcher. The committee will meet tomorrow evening at Belcher's headquarters, 1912 East First street.

Urging the election of John C. Porter, "the grand jury candidate," as Mayor, Dr. Arthur Braden, dean of the California Christian College, has issued an appeal to supporters to get the Porter vote out at the primary election. "There is a great preponderance of Porter sentiment in the city," Dr. Braden said, "but that sentiment will elect Mr. Porter only if people translate it into votes in the ballot box. The people are so discouraged over shame in high places, so tired of corruption in public life, that they eagerly welcome the chance to secure a peace-loving, unblemished man as head of this great city. The public wants its faith restored and it recognizes that Mr. Porter has the knowledge and character to clean up the town and re-establish public good faith in public affairs."

ROSEN STRIKES AT BACLANOVA

Booking Agent Takes Stand Against Film Actress

Her Story of Misunderstood Contract Under Fire

Plaintiff's Recent Marriage Disclosed at Trial

Testimony was offered yesterday for Al Rosen, booking agent for film actors, in his defense of the suit brought by Olga Baclanova, Russian screen actress, who is asking Superior Judge Haddett to rescind a five-year contract Rosen asserts she signed with him as one of his clients. Under the contract he receives 10 per cent of her salary. The principal witness for the defense was Rosen himself. He gave testimony to offset that given by Miss Baclanova to the effect that, at the time she signed the contract, she was unfamiliar with the English language and American motion-picture contracts and that she thought the contract was for a period of one year only, with the right of renewal at the end of the first six months.

ROSEN'S TESTIMONY
Rosen testified that when he and the actress entered into the contract their transactions were carried on in English and that she thoroughly understood the terms. He further declared that when the actress obtained work in the picture "The Man Who Laughs," she was given script written in English and had no trouble with it. Rosen also declared that he was instrumental in getting Miss Baclanova five tests in the studio here and work in various pictures.

Among the witnesses for the plaintiff during the closing hours of her side of the case were Olga Maris, her former secretary, who declared she thought the contract the actress made was for only a year, and F. A. Dattig, casting director for the Paramount-Lasky Players Corporation, who told of the studio's dealings with Miss Baclanova and her success as an actress in various pictures filmed.

MARRIAGE DISCLOSED
One of the interesting developments at the trial yesterday was the confirmation of the report that Miss Baclanova recently was married. In fact, the ceremony, which has been rumored for several weeks, was performed about six weeks ago when she became the wife of Nikolai Soumanin, actor.

While the actress was finishing her testimony, Attorney Burnett Wolfson, counsel for Rosen, asked the witness if she is married. She blushing answered in the affirmative. Soumanin later was called as a witness and corroborated the testimony of his wife concerning her contract with Rosen.

It is expected the defense will conclude its testimony today.

Radio Station Sale Row Sent to Commission
Legal intricacies of the sale of radio station KMIC to one used-car dealer while another vendor of older models had a contract for advertising, were aired in Superior Judge Gates's court yesterday, and a mandamus suit ended with the court refusing the mandamus, and declaring that the matter should be settled by the Federal Radio Commission.

R. L. Kelley, who said he paid $1000 a month to have KMIC designated as the "Kelley Kar Station," was considerably complacent, he said, when on the 1st inst. Delton's Inc., a business rival, bought the station "from under him" and started calling it the "Delton's, Inc. Station." Kelley said this arrangement was contrary to the rules of the Federal Radio Commission, and Judge Gates then advised the litigant to take his troubles before that body.

Library Plans Lecture Series
A series of eight lectures offered by the teachers' department of the Los Angeles Public Library on "Skillful Parents" and arranged by Miss Rosemary Livey, principal of the department, will feature specialists in the fields of child guidance, education and child clinics at the Central Library lecture room during April, May and June.

The first lecture, on "The Child and His Literature," will be given on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. by Miss Eva Leslie, head of the library department of work with children.

The series includes a talk on our schools by Arthur Gould, assistant superintendent of schools; a lecture on "Skillful Parents" and one on "Training for Parenthood," by Dr. Gertrude Lewis; three lectures by Dr. E. Van Norman Emery and one by Dr. Elizabeth Woods on "Progressive Education."

BADLY SCALDED BABY TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Scalded in her bath yesterday Sylvia Lane, 18 months of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lane, of 1141 East Sixty-seventh street, was taken to the Georgia street Receiving Hospital for treatment. The baby was in the tub when her mother left the room for a minute, leaving Sylvia with her sister Evelyn, 3 1/2 years of age. In some manner the hot water faucet was turned on during the mother's brief absence. Sylvia later was transferred to the Children's Hospital.

Read These Important Facts....Then Decide at Once

All Beach Property will Soon be at a Premium, Authentic Figures Show

Today in Los Angeles County there remains only 14 miles of public beach; 17 miles of private beach publicly used.

A total of only 163,680 feet of bathing beach to serve 2,432,000 people in Los Angeles County!

A one day check showed 156,915 bathers and 515,748 spectators occupying the 163,680 feet of available bathing beach 2.4 persons for every front foot!

Just as soon as 750,000 persons begin to use the bathing beach available, the saturation point will be reached, statistics show. And 750,000 persons is only 30% of the total population of Los Angeles County! Where are the other 70% going?

Do you grasp the significance of these authentic figures? They prove beyond question of doubt that the demand for bathing beach property is already greater than the supply. They prove that all bathing beach property will soon be at a premium.

Mrs. E. H. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Larche Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Annual Statement Issued by San Joaquin Concern

Net Increase Over Previous Year Set at $441,233

Per Share Earnings Gain Set at $9.01 for Period

San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation for the year ended December 31, last, showed net income after all charges of $2,881,261.22, equal after preferred dividends of $1,500,000.00, to $9.01 a share on 130,000 common shares of $100 par value, as compared with $2,540,000.00, or $6.49 a share on 110,000 common shares after preferred dividends of $1,500,000.00 in the previous year according to the annual report of A. G. Wilson, president, which was issued yesterday. Figures given in the report are on a consolidated basis to give direct comparison with 1931.

Gross operating revenues were $10,498,507.27, as against $8,384,117 for 1931, an increase of 11.32 per cent. Net operating revenues totaled $3,966,866.31, increasing 12.07 per cent over the 1931 total of $3,531,818.24. Nonoperating revenue amounted to $52,557.31, as against $147,212.29 for 1931, while the gross income aggregated $4,042,723.82, as compared with $3,682,027.53 in the previous year. Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes amounted to $4,452,938.46, an increase of 10.79 per cent over 1931.

YEAR REVIEWED

Pointing out that the company's satisfactory progress shown in the annual report for 1931 was continued, Mr. Wilson said that during 1932 there was a heavy demand by agricultural customers for electricity for pumping, due to the deficiency in gravity water for irrigation. With the exception of grass growers, the report said, farmers throughout the San Joaquin company's territory generally received better returns for their crops than during the previous year. Pump irrigation made these crops possible and the availability of electrical service was in large measure responsible for the well-being and progress of the valley, the report added.

Rate reductions in domestic schedules were made in March of last year, which, based on 1927 use of energy, represented a saving to customers of $130,000. Intensive effort to encourage greater use of electricity in the home increased the average domestic consumption from 604 kilowatt hours per customer in 1931 to 724 in 1932, according to the report.

Total electric output for 1932 amounted to 781,697,040 kilowatt hours, an increase of 10.2 per cent over 1931. Output from the company's two plants at Merced, Selma and Bakersfield amounted to more than 1,500,000,000 cubic feet, an increase of 21.36 per cent over the previous year. Customers for electric, gas and water service in December 31, last, numbered 96,567. Capital expenditures during the year amounted to $1,170,420.

CALIFORNIA BANK ADDS TRIO

James R. Page, W. H. Thomson, E. C. Sterling Leave Security-First National to Take New Posts

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Culminating a brisk rise in the price of the stock and the circulation of a variety of rumors involving mergers with other banks, the entrance of James R. Page, W. H. Thomson and E. C. Sterling into the California Bank was announced yesterday. All three are now associated with the Security-First National, from which they will resign to accept executive positions with the California.

Approval Given for Increase in Steel Capital

HOBOKEN (N. J.) April 15. (AP)—Approval of an increase in the common stock of the United States Steel Corporation to 13,500,000 shares from 12,500,000 was voted today by the stockholders at the annual meeting, but the owners of the company heard no official intimation as to the terms on which the additional shares would be issued.

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the finance committee, told them that the directors at their meeting tomorrow would discuss further details of the plan for redeeming the corporation's funded debt with the money obtained from the stock subscriptions. In the absence of official information, stockholders had only the unofficial report, in circulation, that the corporation had decided to issue 1,000,000 shares on the basis of two new shares for each seven held.

STOCKHOLDERS WISH SUCCESS

In contemplating the new officers of their new affiliation, J. F. Sartor, president of the Security-First National Bank, said: "While we regret the loss of these gentlemen from the Security-First National organization, it has never been our policy to stand in the way of any officer who had what we thought was a better opportunity elsewhere. These gentlemen have a business proposition which they would not afford to decline. They go with our entire approval and they have our best wishes for their success."

ACTIVITY YESTERDAY

Bank on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange was attributed to a number of factors, but it is understood that the real explanation is found in the purchase of a substantial interest in the bank by the three new officers and their close associates. The stock held up 3 points, and during the last two weeks has advanced about 10 points.

STARTED IN BONDS

Mr. Page comes into the California Bank by way of the investment banking business and the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank, recently consolidated with the Security Trust and Savings Bank. He was a member of the investment house of Stevens, Page & Sterling, which was dissolved when the business was sold to the First Securities Company, investment subsidiary of the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank. Mr. Page joined the bank at that time as vice-president.

Mr. Page is a director of the International Re-Insurance Corporation, I. N. Van Nuy Building Co., and Subway Terminal Corporation.

Mr. Thomson is well known in Southern California and Arizona, where he has been actively engaged in commercial banking for a number of years. He started with the old California National of Los Angeles, of which J. E. Plummer was president, and then went to the Phoenix National of Phoenix, Ariz. He was brought back to Los Angeles by Henry R. Robinson to join the First National Bank as vice-president.

When the business of Stevens, Page & Sterling was sold to the First Securities Company, Mr. Sterling became a vice-president. In his new position he will have executive charge over all the investment operations of the California Bank.

In the California Bank group, of which Mr. Chaffey is the head, are the California Bank, California Securities Company, California Trust Corporation, Pacific Mortgage Guaranty Company, California National Bank of Beverly Hills, and Pomona Commercial and Savings Bank of Pomona. Resources of the group are in excess of $150,000,000.

Employment on Upturn Locally

Employment conditions in the Los Angeles territory show an upward trend in March with practically all plants operating at capacity, according to the monthly survey issued by James J. Davis, secretary of the United States Department of Labor and Francis I. Jones, director-general of the United States Employment Service.

The automobile factories and rubber plants maintained high levels and expansion was noted in plants manufacturing airplanes. While new manufacturing plants announced their establishment during the month, forces employed in oil fields and refineries, oil-tool shops and in lamp factories connected with the motion-picture industry were reduced somewhat. While a surplus of labor still existed generally, unemployment is decreasing, according to the survey.

London Market Generally Firm

LONDON, April 15. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a generally firm tone today but irregularity prevailed in some sections of the list. There was a fair supply of buying orders over the week-end, but most speculators preferred to await the reading of the budget in the House of Commons today before making new commitments. The industrial list moved irregularly with talking machines rising on the decline. Tobacco was firm. Artificial silk securities were irregular. Textiles and Dunlop issues were easier. Oils were cheerful with slight improvement by the leaders. Mining securities were irregular. Rubbers were quiet.

NEW YORK, April 15. ## TRADE TIES LINKING WORLD

Baltimore Conference of National Organization to be Notable International Gathering

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1932, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, April 15.—Trade between the peoples of the different countries of the world is doing more to end national isolation than all other factors combined.

Next Wednesday evening the business world will be given a demonstration of how closely tied are the peoples of the world. At the Lord Baltimore Hotel, in Baltimore, 2000 business men from thirty-six States, Hawaii, Canada and sixteen other foreign countries, will see, as they dine, messages sent by duplex tele-typewriters to London, Paris, Manila, Shanghai, Havana, Valparaiso, Rio De Janeiro and Buenos Aires. Five or seven minutes later, as they continue with the banquet, the receiving machine on the same table will return the answers to each one of these messages.

Another demonstration will be a general shore-to-ship call, sent by land wire to San Francisco and radioed to ships in the Pacific Ocean. Before the dinner is finished messages will be returned by not less than twenty ships, 2000 and 8000 miles away from the banquet hall, stating their location and the weather conditions under which they are plowing through the Pacific.

James A. Farrell, chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, under whose supervision the banquet will be held, will send a cable message around South America, and it will be returned to Ambassador Carlos G. Davila, of Chile, who will be seated beside Mr. Farrell at the table.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—The bond market was quiet today but in spite of the slow trading prices moved a little higher, favored by credit prospects.

The slump trading was the result chiefly of a loss of interest in the conversion of the bonds of the United States Steel Corp. which was caught in the sharp decline of the stock market and so sharply diminished sales of the bonds to $7,500,000, the smallest in weeks.

The speculative market was quiet today was Pan American Petroleum convertible bonds which moved a little higher on a fair turnover to reach a new high price of 107 1/2. The recent move of this bond has followed the upward in the stock market and the company's better prospects.

Copper bonds with a drop of more than 5 points to 114 1/2, compared with the year's high of 120 1/2.

The United States government obligations were in slightly better demand. The 2-1/2% coupon bonds issued in 1930, with the treasury obligations, were in demand. The 2-1/2% coupon bonds issued in 1930, with the treasury obligations, were in demand. The 2-1/2% coupon bonds issued in 1930, with the treasury obligations, were in demand.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 15. (AP)—Stock prices drifted about in rather aimless fashion today as the market awaited the President's address to Congress and the passing of the temporary credit emergency legislation. The market was generally quiet, with only a few scattered transactions. The President's address to Congress was expected to be a landmark event, and the market was expected to react to it. The temporary credit emergency legislation was also expected to be a landmark event, and the market was expected to react to it.

A Real Home Starts with Definite Character

In Bel-Air the character of the home is probably more definitely influenced by its natural surroundings than elsewhere. It may start with the style of architecture, but the country itself has most to do with it. That accounts for the great variety of home styles found in Bel-Air. This is not a subdivision where restrictions are so exacting that each home, each garden appears to have been cut from the same pattern. There has been no one to say that this section shall be Spanish, this section Colonial, nor another section French or Italian. There are no sections, like waves, of this architecture or of this or that period. Each homesite owner with his architect has selected the particular style that appealed most to him, his pocketbook and the situation of his homesite. The result is that Bel-Air has become a residential park of strikingly beautiful, homelike homes. The owner with the inclination for the Mexican type of home has nestled his choice in a canyon on the side of a hill, where it belongs. The Colonial mansion stands on a prominence, commanding a sweeping view of the country. Each home has its definite character and place.

As you drive about Bel-Air with our sales representative, keep in mind that the average acre lot is priced at about $20,000.00. Compare that with crowded other sections.

Hubert S. Upjohn, since 1916 assistant superintendent of the county schools and since the death of Mark Keppel, June 16, 1928, acting superintendent, yesterday was given the permanent appointment by the Board of Supervisors.

The new superintendent was born in Kalamazoo, Mich., January 4, 1881, and studied in the schools there, including Kalamazoo College. He was graduated at the University of Chicago in 1903, with the degree of Ph.D. He taught mathematics and served as athletic coach in the Lansing (Mich.) High School and in the following year was principal at the Grand Haven (Mich.) High School. During 1906 and 1907 he taught at the State Academy at Pocatello, Idaho, and while in that city met and married Mrs. Upjohn.

New York Lawyer Will Study Merit Before Answer

Traction Battles Similar Committee Contents

Samuel Untermyer, noted New York lawyer, may appear for the city of Los Angeles before the United States Supreme Court in the Los Angeles Railway Company's fight to raise appeal. On the eve of his departure for New York in his private car, he was waiting at Hotel St. Francis, Pasadena, late yesterday by a delegation of city officials.

They presented him with a transcript of the case to date, which he declared he would study on the train.

He then made his acceptance of the invitation subject to two conditions, namely that he find that there appears to be a fair chance of his winning it, and that the State Railroad Commission approves the appointment.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

The visit of the Council committee and the City Attorney to Mr. Untermyer was the result of the unanimous adoption by the City Council yesterday morning of a resolution introduced by Councilman Hall which recommended the employment of the New York lawyer.

The resolution not only placed the Council on record as favoring the retaining of Mr. Untermyer, "provided agreeable terms can be reached," but requested City Attorney Stephens to submit the record in the case to him and to join the Council in urging him to take the case.

It was disclosed in the resolution that the matter already had been informally discussed with Mr. Untermyer and that he had indicated his willingness to represent the city, provided, first, that the invitation to do so came from City Attorney Stephens and, second, that he found the city has a meritorious case after he has examined the records.

HALL STARTS MOVE

The resolution did not disclose who it was that had brought the matter to Mr. Untermyer's attention, but it was learned later that it was Councilman Hall who had taken the initiative in the matter, in company with Max Blumheim and Thomas J. E. MacGowan, executive secretary and general counsel, respectively, of the Metropolitan League. That organization, incidentally, addressed a letter to the Council yesterday urging it to authorize the hiring of Mr. Untermyer.

The preliminary portion of the Council's resolution details the developments to date in the street car company's fight for an increased fare and points out the similarities between this fight and that of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company of New York to obtain a higher fare, in which Mr. Untermyer represented New York City and which was decided in favor of that city. It cites the similarity of the tactics of the traction companies in having recourse to the Federal courts to nullify adverse decisions of the State commissions whose power it is to regulate rates.

MANY AFFECTED

In arguing for the employment of special counsel, the resolution states that "it is estimated that on the basis of approximately 300,000,000 revenue passengers of the Los Angeles Railway per year," the granting of the fare increase would mean the loss of between $400,000 and $600,000 more in fares per year than under the old 5-cent rate.

Prior to his departure for the East yesterday, Mr. Untermyer answered the attack on the Transit Commission made in New York papers last week by Herman Metz in connection with Interborough subway stock ownership. Metz, he said, has had his point distorted and his morale corrupted by his contact with the Interborough or else he does not know what he is talking about.

"Mr. Metz is misrepresenting the city's interest in which he owns his place on the board of directors," Untermyer declared, "and he is not (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

The gent with spais fled from the dining-room, paid his bill and departed.

CAMPING DE LUXE

At one side are his cot bed and trunk. On the other side a toilet table made by placing two collapsible canvas water buckets in a wooden rack. There are two other folding tables. In the center, with its protecting tent pole, is a Sibley stove—a little cone of cast iron so made that the fuel rests on the ground.

WONDERS OF DIPLOMACY

I have wondered what went on in the inner sanctum of the big Washington embassies—with their diplomats in gold lace and lackeys standing on guard at the door. It appears that what diplomats really do is to decide whether Mrs. Gann shall sit at the left or the right of the hostess at state dinners. Of all the darn silly incidents that have ever come up in Washington this is the one that claims the pinhead championship.

RAGS AND TATTERS

The poverty along the Mexican border almost passes belief. That these pitiful children ever manage to grow up is a tribute to the climate.

It would be impossible to imagine such rags. I saw a handsome little chap this morning, with sweet, intelligent eyes. All he had by way of field equipment was a pair of pants that were nothing more than two shreds of what had been cloth dangling down his little legs, and somebody's old coat pinned about his shivering, naked top side.

The irony of his fate is that Mexico is potentially the richest country in the world. It can raise enough to feed the world.

BEER AND WATER

Lone Woman Bandit Holds Up Branch Bank and Makes Escape

DEMAND MADE IN CHECK FORM

"Pay Me All Your Big Bills," She Tells Cashier

Collects $2000 at Gun Point and Walks Out

Believed to Have Robbed Denver Institution

Hotels and rooming-houses were being carefully searched late yesterday for the lone woman bandit who, shortly after the noon hour, held up employees of the Citizens National Bank branch at Santa Barbara avenue and Figueroa street and escaped with $2000 in currency.

Police expressed a belief that she is the same "good-looking brunette" who held up the Colorado State Bank in Denver, Colo., on the 11th inst., and got away with $5000. The description tallies, they said, and a similarly worded note was used in both cases. It is thought she has just arrived here and may be registered at some small hotel.

UNIQUE ROBBERY

The robbery here yesterday was unique in police annals. It was the first time, according to police records, that a lone woman, dressed in a low evening gown, called waiters and ever held up a bank in this city.

The actions of the woman bandit, described as being about 35 years of age and of the brunette type, were those of a seasoned desperado, the victims reported. Her entrance to the institution was scarcely noticed. She walked quietly to the window of B. F. Morrison, cashier, and lay down a check on the counter. He picked it up, read the threatening words, glanced up and stared into the muzzle of a good-sized revolver held steady in the woman's right hand.

The note said: "Hand me out all your big bills. You are covered from the outside. Don't be foolish." The last three words were heavily underlined. Part of the note was in long hand, part in printed letters.

So quietly did the woman move that A. Bradley, manager, and Miss Katherine Murphy, book-keeper, sitting but a short distance from the cashier's window, were unaware what was happening until she left.

GUN THREATENS

Morrison began sliding sheets of $1 and $5 bills through the window. "Big bills, I said," the woman retorted, "I want a low evening gown." The revolver in her hand moved forward an inch.

Morrison then handed her bills at a larger denomination. Placing the money in a pocket of her long tan coat the woman backed away from the window a short distance, whirled suddenly, and fled through the street door. It is not known if she escaped on foot or in an automobile.

Such is the story told to police by Morrison. He further described the woman as being about 35 years of age, about five feet six inches tall, slender build, and of medium complexion. Besides the tan coat he noticed only that she wore a small straw hat, he said.

In the Denver robbery the woman also refused anything smaller than $5 bills. Instead of a small hat she wore a large one, he said, and contained nitroglycerin with which she threatened to "blow up the bank" if her demands were not promptly carried out.

DAILY BANDIT ROB

EDISON COMPANY OFFICE

Two daylight bandits entered the Southern California Edison Company office at 443½ Whittier boulevard shortly after noon yesterday, held up the two employees in the office and escaped with $800, according to reports at the sheriff's office.

When the two bandits entered the office one of them thrust a gun at Paul J. Shelly and Dyon Powell, employees, and ordered them into a back room where a forced them to lie on the floor. Meanwhile the other bandit, plundered the till.

Following the robbery, the robbers fled out a rear door and drove away in a black Hudson coach.

Deputy Sheriff Hurst and Law of the Belvedere subdivision, of the sheriff's office are assigned to the investigation.

WOMAN WINS PEN PRIZE

Pen salesmanship is mightier than indifference, Mrs. Mary Dagon, a saleswoman at the J. W. Robinson Company, learned yesterday when she was notified that a $50 prize had been awarded her by the W. A. Shaffer Pen Company for one of the twenty-five best sales talks in the country. Awards were made on reports by representatives posing as customers.

TODAY MAY END FRAME-UP CASE

State conviction by which he faces a term in San Quentin.

In dismissing Marco and Crawford the conspiracy charged in the indictment is in effect nullified. It is customary to grant motions to dismiss in proper cases at the close of the evidence for the prosecution, though it is not mandatory to do it at that time.

In view of the extraordinary circumstances of the case at bar as disclosed by the court records, the court has considered it proper to withhold passing upon motions to dismiss until all the evidence of both sides is presented. Since all the evidence is now before the court it is the duty of the court to finally dispose of the motions.

There is absolutely no legal evidence before the court connecting the defendants Crawford and Albert with the conspiracy charged in the indictment which is considered against either of them. The testimony of the witness Anderson, made by the defendant Grimes to him after the termination of the alleged conspiracy, is in weight, about five feet six inches tall, slender build, and of medium complexion. Besides the tan coat he noticed only that she wore a small straw hat, he said.

IN REBUTTAL

In rebuttal the State placed on the witness stand John Barnes, former deputy city prosecutor, who prosecuted the moral charge against Jacobson in September, 1927, and Mrs. Ida C. Criss, forewoman of the jury in the Criss case. The jury, which disagreed, stood even to five for acquittal of Jacobson when dismissed.

W. V. Anderson, an attorney, next went to the stand for an attempt to introduce further statements, which, on former examination, he said, Mrs. Criss made to him. The defense successfully blocked the Anderson's attempt to introduce the statements.

MARCO LOSES FIGHT TO SERVE JAIL TERM

After putting forth a futile court battle, Albert Marco, so-called vice king of Los Angeles, yesterday lost what is believed to be his last chance in the effort to serve a Federal sentence of six months in the County Jail before serving a State sentence of from two to twenty years in San Quentin.

With a battery of attorneys, Marco appeared before United States District Judge McCormick to resist motion by the government to have his commitment on the Federal sentence withdrawn from United States Marshal Stitel. Withdrawal of the commitment means that Marco will have to serve his San Quentin sentence first and that the Federal sentence will be a hamper to his possibilities of parole.

After arguments by defense attorneys, Thomas P. White and Otto Christensen, and Assistant United States Attorneys Redwine and Davis and Dep. Dist. Atty. Becker, the court granted the motion of the government, thus making it mandatory upon the Marshal not to put into effect the commitment until such time as Marco has served his State prison sentence. The defense attorneys may appeal from this decision.

The decision of the court automatically wipes out a petition on a writ of mandamus, directed against Marshal Stitel, to serve the commitment upon Sheriff Traeger. This has not been done so far, inasmuch as the commitment was withdrawn, the writ of mandamus falls without cause, it was stated.

STREET-CAR INJURY FATAL TO VICTIM

Harry Hostetter, 50 years of age, died last night in Methodist Hospital of injuries suffered the 13th inst. when he fell from a street car at Washington street and Vermont avenue. His skull was fractured. The body was sent to the County Morgue.

COLLEGIATE CADET BODY REVIEWED

Gen. Hines Looks Over R.O.T.C. Organization of 1500 at U.C.L.A.

Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines, commander of the Ninth Corps Area, United States Army, reviewed the Reserve Officers Training Corps cadet military regiment of the University of California at Los Angeles yesterday morning on Moore field, as a part of his tour of inspection of army units in the Ninth Corps Area. Dr. Ernest C. Moore, director of U.C.L.A., accompanied him in the review and inspection.

Approximately 1500 cadets comprise the U. C. L. A. regiment that paraded under the leadership of Cadet Col. Waddy Whitney.

After the review, Gen. Hines and his assistant chief of staff, Col. A. L. Singleton, were entertained at a luncheon given by Col. Perry L. Miles, commander of the U.C.L.A. military department, at the Hollywood Athletic Club. A number of army officers were present at both review and luncheon including Maj. Frederick B. Terrell, commander of the high school R.O.T.C. units in Los Angeles; Col. George F. Hamilton, in charge of Army reserve units in Southern California; Lieut.-Col. Wallace T. Downing of the Thirty-second Infantry; and Maj. Fredrick B. Terrell, commander of the military department at Hollywood High School.

Gen. Hines also reviewed the R.O.T.C. unit of Hollywood High School yesterday.

Following this review of the U.C.L.A. unit, Maj.-Gen. Hines was the guest of Director Moore at a luncheon in the Hollywood Athletic Club. Other luncheon guests were his assistant chief of staff, Col. L. Singleton, and faculty members and military instructors at the university.

Proceeding the Hollywood High School R.O.T.C. Last night he reviewed the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry at Exposition Park, followed by a banquet at the hotel.

CRUISE BIDS FOR CHAPLIN TALENT

Chaplin evinced great interest in the proposition when it was first made, it was revealed yesterday, and spent several hours with Cruise Saturday and Sunday in going over the details of the projected feature picture.

The picture, if Chaplin accepts, will be made in the old Chadwick Production, Inc. studio at 1440 North Gower street, which recently was purchased by Cruise. It will be a story of theatrical life in a big musical revue, and will center around the backstage activities of the cast. Cruise explains that the production he has under consideration.

The part will necessitate Chaplin's forsaking his famous shoes, hat and cane, as he will appear in an entirely new role.

MISSOURIANS WILL GATHER

A special musical program, it was announced yesterday, has been arranged for the Missouri reunion party this evening at Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue. In addition there will be prizes, a roll call and county registers.

WYOMING RALLY PLANNED

A warm welcome was promised by President W. D. Owen of the Wyoming Society yesterday in issuing an invitation to all former residents of that State to attend a reunion tomorrow evening at Veterans Hall, 246 South Hill street. There will be entertainment, dancing and refreshments.

So it went all evening. Some of the defendants were given another chance. Drunk drivers were sent to jail.

"I will continue to send drunk drivers to jail," the head of the new court declared.

In opening the court with a short address Municipal Judge Turney stated that at present the court will handle only drunk and vagrancy cases, but that felonies and speed-warrant cases will be added as the court's functions multiply.

The twenty-one defendants were ushered into a court bedecked with flowers last night. Several social service and legal organizations sent floral respects and Judge McCormick peered over large baskets of flowers at the defendants.

A dead language will be spoken fluently today when four members of the debating society of Loyola High School meet in a debate conducted entirely in Latin. The contest will take place in Roosevelt High School auditorium at 2:45 p.m. as the result of an invitation extended the students by the classical center of the Board of Education.

Joseph Dimuro and William Wilson will uphold the affirmative and Arthur Houser and Richard Walsh the negative of the subject: "Resolved, that the study of Latin has greater advantages for the general training of the mind than any modern language." Following the debate Francis Montgomery will read an essay in Latin on "The Art of Aviation."

LINER WITH BOY CADETS DOCKS HERE

Modern Craft Reverting to Old Ways of Sea Trains Youth as Sailors

Inaugurating the return of the cadet system in the American Merchant Marine, the Panama-Pacific electric liner California yesterday came in from New York with six youths on her crew list in that capacity; a provision of the mail-subsidy law of the new Merchant Marine Act of 1928, or Jones-White bill.

Cadets hereafter must be carried by all American vessels of certain classes enjoying the government-subsidy. It was explained by Capt. James K. Roberts. They are boys between 16 and 21 years of age and after two years' service in that capacity are eligible for certificates as third officers in the merchant marine.

The sea-going schoolmaster of the California is Third Officer Harry Connors, an officer in the United States Naval Reserve and also a graduate of the Royal Canadian Naval Academy at Halifax, N. S. In addition to their work as seamen the six youngsters are given instruction by Mr. Connors in seamanship, navigation and other adjuncts of a master mariner's profession. All vessels of the Panama-Pacific Line hereafter will carry six cadets.

Haste on Street Costs Her Fine

Mildred Merkle of 1330 North Alexandria street, paid $10 to get to work in a film studio on time, and then she was late, it was revealed yesterday in Municipal Judge Bush's court.

The $10 was not paid until five minutes after the time she was to appear in court to answer to a charge of driving thirty-five miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone.

"I was just in a hurry to get to work," the girl told the judge, "and when I found a nice open stretch of road on Santa Monica boulevard I went a little too fast."

Judge Bush agreed that a desire to be at work promptly is a laudable ambition, but insisted that the usual fine of $10 be paid.

Wants $20,000 to Go on With Julian Cases

Special Counsel Acting for City in New Drive

Having his plans for vigorous prosecution of 143 men named as defendants in asserted usurious loan pool operations, City Prosecutor Max Blumberg again appealed to the City Council for an additional appropriation to provide for extra prosecutors and extra expenses anticipated during the trial.

Blumberg recently requested that the City Council for $25,000 be provided for the prosecution, but the council voted when the Council was asked $10,000 was voted for the former administration for the same and never was used in that manner, according to Blumberg.

HUGE AIRCRAFT MERGER MADE

Six of Country's Foremost Companies Combine

Vought, Pioneer of Industry, Brings Announcement

Maker Sees Plane's Future to Rival Automobile

Completion of the merger of six of the country's strongest aircraft-producing and operating concerns, with assets totaling $115,000,000, was announced yesterday by George W. Vought, pioneer aircraft builder, who, with his son, Russell E. Vought, arrived yesterday from New York aboard the Panama-Pacific liner California to complete Pacific Coast organization of the new combine, United Aircraft.

The participating companies of United Aircraft include the Chance Vought Corporation of Long Island City, N. Y.; the Boeing Aircraft Corporation, Seattle; Hamilton Metal Plane Company, Milwaukee; Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company, Hartford, Ct.; Boeing Air Transport, coast-to-coast mail and passenger service, and Pacific Air Transport, coastwise service. The elder Mr. Vought has just retired as president of the Chance-Vought Corporation; Russell Vought now is Pacific Coast manager of United Aircraft, while a second son, Chas. Vought, now vice-president of United Aircraft, will come here in June.

HISTORY TO REPEAT
Mr. Vought declares that aviation has taken America during the past two years and he predicts that the rise of the industry will rival that of the American automobile. "So gratifying has been America's enthusiasm toward aviation that we are now drawing designs for new commercial planes that we will produce this season by the hundreds," he said. "In 1918, the first year of the Vought organization, we built thirty-five planes. We will soon be producing more than that a month, while our 1929 production will exceed $5,000,000 in value. "Aviation's great value to American commerce is that it speeds up transportation five-fold, so that today New York and Los Angeles are only thirty-two hours apart, just as close relatively as were New York and Baltimore a couple of decades ago."

AERONAUTIC FAMILY
The Vought family made its niche in aviation in design and building of observation planes for the Army and Navy, their new Corsair observer-fighter, now used by the battle fleet here, being regarded as the best-performing military airplane in the world. Mr. Vought declared in that connection that the Army and Navy have done more than all other agencies combined to promote commercial aviation. The various interests merged in United Aircraft, he said, will follow a joint construction and operating program, each concern centering on the activities to which it is adapted.

Jewelry Burglar Will Be Confined in San Quentin for at Least Seven Years

Walter N. Deutsch, asserted Los Angeles jewelry burglar, yesterday pleaded guilty to one burglary charge when taken before Superior Judge Shaw and not guilty to two other charges which are to be disposed of in court on the 24th inst. in Department 21. Judge Shaw fixed the crime as second degree burglary and sentenced Deutsch to San Quentin prison. According to Daniel Beecher, chief of Dist. Atty. Pitts' trial department, Deutsch will have to serve a minimum of seven years because he resisted officers with a gun.

Deutsch, who officers assert posed as a manufacturing jeweler to dispose of his plunder was arrested at his home at 948 Muirfield Road, March 21, last. In the search that followed, jewels valued at approximately $50,000 were recovered from numerous hiding places, according to officers.

Deutsch was represented by Atty. S. S. Hahn while George Kemp of the District Attorney's office was in charge of the prosecution.

1315 The Story of the World War
85—Rumania Attacks Austria.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ON ENTERING THE WORLD WAR (AUG. 27, 1914), RUMANIA AT ONCE BOUGHT TO SEIZE THE AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN PROVINCE OF TRANSYLVANIA, WHICH SHE LONG HAD CLAIMED. ON THE NIGHT OF AUGUST 27, RUMANIAN ARMIES POUNDED NORTHWARD THROUGH THE MOUNTAIN PASSES, DRIVING BACK THE SMALL AUSTRIAN FORCES THAT OPPOSED THEM.

THE RUMANIANS HOPED TO EFFECT A JUNCTION WITH BRUSILOV'S RUSSIAN ARMY, WHICH HAD BEEN WINNING SUCCESSES IN THE BUKOWINA, AND TOGETHER MAKE A GREAT DRIVE AGAINST THE AUSTRIANS. HOWEVER, BRUSILOV'S ADVANCE WAS CHECKED BY A GERMAN ARMY SENT TO AID THE AUSTRIANS, AND THE HOPE OF A COMBINED RUSS-RUMANIAN OFFENSIVE FADING.

BEFORE RUMANIA ENTERED THE WAR, THE CENTRAL POWERS HAD LOOKED TO HER FOR MUCHLY NEEDED SUPPLIES OF OIL AND GRAIN. WHEN RUMANIA JOINED THE ALLIES, GERMANY FOUND HERSELF CUT OFF FROM THIS SOURCE OF SUPPLY.

THESE COMMODITIES WERE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO THE GERMANS. THEY HAD THOUGH AT THE MOMENT THEY HAD THEIR STRENGTH TO OPPOSE THE RUSS AND FRENCH ON THE WESTERN FRONT. TWO OF THEIR BEST GENERALS, SCHUCHMAN AND FALKENHAYN, WITH TROOPS OF RUSSIA, UNDERTAKE THE CONQUEST OF RUMANIA.

Defense Plea Proves to

DELGADO, 27 years of age, charged with the murder of Juan Chacon, 22, in Burbank on February 17, last, was acquitted yesterday by a jury. The trial is believed to have been the first in the state in which a defendant accused of first-degree murder has invoked the recent law which waives a jury trial. DELGADO, not guilty, was commended by Judge Mackay on his efficient conduct of the case, but declared the evidence warranted an acquittal on the ground of self-defense. According to the evidence Chacon was killed instantly by a bullet following an altercation on the night of February 17 at the home of Verdugo and Flower streets, Burbank. It was declared by the judge that Chacon, a friend of Delgado, had become offended and he refused to take a drink of beer. A few minutes later re- turned with a gun, according to the evidence, and the pair engaged in a struggle, resulting in the death of Chacon.

PERJURING BENEDICTS
STIR WRATH OF COURT

Too many young people rush to the marriage license bureau of this and surrounding counties, trying about their age to obtain a license, get married and then come into court a few months later seeking an annulment of the ceremony and go out free without being punished for their perjury, according to judges on the Superior Court bench.

So yesterday when Albert Lucian came before Superior Judge Stutman asking for an annulment of the marriage of his son, Donavin Lucian, to Gladys Edwards Lucian, the judge took the opportunity to lecture the young man severely for lying about his age when he procured his marriage license at Santa Ana August 13, 1928.

"Didn't you realize that you were committing perjury and could be sent to jail?" asked the judge. The young man, only 18 years of age at present, was silent.

"Do not ever try this sort of thing again. You were committing perjury to gain some end," the judge declared. "When you leave this courtroom try to be a dutiful son and keep out of trouble," he added as he signed the decree.

Water and Power Unit to Pay $6,000,000 This Year on Its Obligations

Nearly $6,000,000 will be turned over to the City Treasurer during the fiscal year ending June 30, next, by the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, on principal and interest, due on water and power bonds, it was revealed yesterday by records in the department at the start of the last quarter of the current fiscal year.

Payment of interest and principal charges on all outstanding general water and power bonds are made from the earnings of the department, said H. A. Van Norman, general manager.

In the present three months of the fiscal year ending June 30, next, $1,479,148 will be paid into the city treasury on principal and interest charges. Of the $6,000,000 representing the year's payments, $2,669,535 is for water bonds and $3,330,465 for power bonds.

Despite the fact that Los Angeles carries its general water and power bond charges out of its earnings, the department has been able to maintain low water and power rates, Van Norman said. He called attention to the fact that a report of the American Water Works Association shows 183 leading American cities maintain an average maximum charge of 18 cents per 100 cubic feet. The Los Angeles maximum rate is 13 cents.

ENGLAND'S INDIAN RULE HELD WISE

Missionary Says Hindus Themselves Balk Reforms; Gandhi Called Visionary

That the British government is doing everything in its power to make India a self-governing country and that the political future of India depends largely on the Indians themselves is the statement of Dr. J. J. Kingham, superintendent of the Madras District of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address yesterday to Methodist preachers at First Methodist Episcopal Church.

"England sometimes is blamed for not having established prohibition in India, but critics who voice that complaint do not seem to be aware of the fact that the laws of India today are made by the Indians, who form a majority of the law-making bodies," said Dr. Kingham. "Formerly it was the English who wanted the revenue from the drink traffic in India, today it is the Indians who want the revenue."

Discussing Gandhi and his influence, Dr. Kingham said, "He is a great saint and powerful spiritual leader, but a political failure and his doctrine of passive resistance and non-cooperation has been misunderstood and misapplied by the Mohammedans, whose gospel of the sword results in acts of violence for which all India must suffer."

"It is true that Gandhi seeks to bring about the destruction of the caste system, but the Christian missionaries have done more to cure that evil than has Gandhi."

William R. Woods, Jr., former special prohibition agent at Detroit, is due to arrive in Los Angeles today to become prohibition administrator for Southern California and Arizona, succeeding Maj. Woods has been in government service for five years and has had charge of the special agents at Detroit since the special squads were established some years ago to co-operate with other governmental branches enforcing the national liquor laws.

Maj. McReynolds, who has been the local administrator for more than two years, immediately will assume his new duties, which include the establishment of airplane observation service on the Pacific Coast and along the Mexican border to combat rum-runners. His headquarters will remain in Los Angeles.

Fatal Blast Hurls Workman From Manhole

Frank Germaine, 34 years of age, died in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital yesterday shortly after he had been taken there severely burned as the result of an explosion of gas in a manhole in which he was working in front of 1467 Silver Lake Boulevard.

Employed as a carpenter's helper by the J. F. Shap Company, sewer contractors, Germaine was engaged in removing partitions from the walls of the manhole when leaking gas became ignited in an unknown manner, the explosion hurling him out of the hole and inflicting third-degree burns all over his body.

According to the police investigating the accident, a cigarette butt was found in the manhole, indicating that Germaine may have unwittingly caused his own death by attempting to smoke while at work. The dead man lived at 1728 South Western avenue.

SALESMAN LOSES VALUABLE TRUNK

Clever Thieves Swap Checks on Baggage

Luggage Said to Contain $35,000 in Diamonds

Scheme Worked Through Los Angeles Station

SANTA BARBARA, April 13.—When Louis Freund, traveling representative of a large New York jewel house, called at the Southern Pacific station here this morning, turned in his baggage check for his $35,000 trunk full of diamonds. He was handed a bag of sand instead.

Freund left Salt Lake City a few days ago with his trunk and jewelry, precious stones and watches. He checked his trunk through to Los Angeles and then without stopping in the city checked the trunk through to Santa Barbara, according to the story told by Police George Sloan.

Undoubtedly a gang of jewel thieves changed checks on the trunk and the bag of sand in Los Angeles before the articles were shipped. They bent the train to Santa Barbara and tendered the check for the trunk a few minutes after the train pulled out. When Mr. Freund appeared at the baggage room this morning his check was good for only a bag of sand. Police are at a loss for identification clues or descriptions of the men who took the trunk last night. They tendered the check at a rush time in the baggage room and as no unusual circumstances arose the clerk failed to establish any marks of identification.

It is the consensus of opinion that a new grammar school is necessary and recommendations as to a possible site for the school or additions to the present buildings will be set forth in the survey.

San Bernardino County Official Charges Mechanic With Slaying of Friend

SAN BERNARDINO, April 13.—After girl guests at a party last Thursday night at the home of J. J. Hull, told deputy sheriffs that Hull and his pal, James V. Johnson charging Meador with the slaying of Hull, whose body was found at his home last Saturday night.

Meador, an itinerant automobile mechanic, who lived with Hull, had been missing since early Friday morning when he was seen leaving Hull's home in the latter's automobile.

The murder complaint was sworn to by James Hull of Victorville, a brother of the slain man, Florence and Lewis, who were 21 and 23 years of age, respectively, and Meador, who was 21 years of age, was charged with the slaying of Hull.

Dentist and Patient "Up in the Air"

Something New in Dentistry

Tooth surgeon gets man's mind off his trouble by attaining high altitude in flying machine

ALHAMBRA, April 13.—For probably the first time in the history of either dentistry or aviation, an airplane was transformed into a dentist's office Sunday when J. L. Cooper, 2728 West Shore street, had an aching molar extracted by Dr. Gilbert Riddle, local dentist, while they were a thousand feet above the earth, soaring through the clouds.

Cooper says it was an absolutely painless operation, his thoughts being far removed from his teeth during the affair.

Dr. Riddle and his patient embarked at the Garvey Airport on East Garvey avenue in a plane piloted by Mike Reaser, Alhambra. The flight and operation were witnessed by an observer in an airplane piloted by Kurt H. Schober, proprietor of the airport. Schober flew close to Reaser's plane with the wings practically overlapping. The entire flight, including the take-off and the landing, occupied fifteen minutes.

Dr. Riddle is the son of Frank L. Riddle, founder of the Alhambra Mills Lodge.

FALL IS FATAL TO SANTA PAULA DENTIST

SANTA PAULA, April 13.—Falling to survive an operation performed in a last frantic effort to save his life, Dr. Charles G. Gould, 34 years of age, local dentist, died at the Big Sisters' Hospital in Ventura yesterday afternoon. His death was due to a basal fracture of the skull caused by a fall late Saturday evening.

Dr. Gould was a member of the Santa Paula Masonic Lodge, and this year held the office of Senior Warden. He was prominent here in sports. His interests in track events dated back to his college career when he was known as one of the best sprinters in Southern California. He also made the varsity football squad while at U.C.D. Dr. Gould graduated from the University of Southern California in 1917. He was a World War veteran.

REDONDO BEACH, April 13.—A letter received by Mrs. H. E. Nickola this afternoon from 17-year-old Stella Nickola, missing from her home here since Saturday, confirmed the suspicions of officers to whom her disappearance was reported, that an elopement was the cause of it. The girl's letter stated that she had left here in company with Harold Haff, 17, and that they were on their way to be married. Both parents of the girl are firm in their refusal to sanction the marriage and have asked the officers to continue the search.

"DIXIE MANOR" DEDICATED

Home for Confederate Veterans Opened by Southern Women Now Living in California

SAN GABRIEL, April 13.—"Dixie Manor," a home for Confederate veterans, was dedicated yesterday and today the rambling old house at 816 Clarence avenue is the home of nine former soldiers of the South.

The home has been established by the Daughters of the Confederacy, headed by a committee of twelve women, of which Mrs. J. W. Chichester is chairman. The group comprises twelve chapters of the U.D.C. in Southern California.

Although as yet not an official U.D.C. enterprise, "Dixie Manor" will be discussed at the State convention next month in Fresno and it is expected will be placed under the jurisdiction of the State chapters. Various chapters as well as individuals have contributed to the new home.

At Sunday's ceremony of dedication Mrs. W. H. Wright of San Gabriel presided as program chairman and introduced Mrs. Chichester, who, in turn, presented the speakers. The program opened with a bugle call by Boy Scouts and Mrs. Macdonald.

Dr. Joseph Bailey of Pasadena, formerly a resident of Tennessee, made the dedication address. "Now there is no North and South, for we are a common country," he declared.

Gen. S. S. Simmons of Los Angeles, wearing the gray uniform of Lee's army, responded on behalf of the old soldiers.

Five hundred guests were present at the dedication, at the conclusion of which tea was served on the lawn. Among those present was Mrs. Chester A. Garfield, past president of the U.D.C. State federation.

Six of the veterans who have taken up their abode in "Dixie Manor" were formerly living at the county farm. None of them has near relatives to care for them. The ideal of the sponsors is to make "Dixie Manor" a real home, and the word "institution" is never used in referring to it.

The general U.D.C. committee, under Mrs. Chichester's leadership, responsible for establishing the home, includes Mrs. Hugh Garr, Mrs. Colin Macdonald, Mrs. E. J. Harris, Mrs. Fred Nilums, Mrs. Ella Swickard, Mrs. James M. Talbot, Mrs. Sue Ponder, Mrs. Albert Sidney Johnson, Mrs. Robert Whitely, Mrs. Herbert Shiek, Mrs. Milton Standard and Mrs. W. H. Wright.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT MUNICIPAL AIRPORT

SAN DIEGO, April 13.—Indicative of the development of air traffic at Lindbergh Field, San Diego municipal airport, was the announcement today by the San Diego Air Corps that it will inaugurate a special airplane service to any part of the United States.

"It is surprising the increasing number of requests for such service," said Campbell.

The post holdings here are placed at $25,000, with only small indebtedness, under charge of Gilbert Nelson, present commander. The Legion home is used for various civic entertainments. It was thought best to incorporate the post to free members from individual liability in case of accidents or mishaps while others were using the clubhouse hall.
